Praise, barbs mark trustee's exit

Abrasive. Tough. Demanding.

Both Dunklee and former board trustee Dale Weighill made a surprise visit to the June 11 board meeting to say good-bye to Brandemihl, who leaves the board this month after 12 years

Brandemihl, current board president, has long occupied the limelight as "Mrs. Clarenceville." During those 12 years, she spent as much time being a Clarenceville trustee as she spent attending Clarenceville schools in her youth.

Along with the praises heaped on her last Thursday came a few barbs. The 'hard ass' 'destription from her good friend Dunklee was one of them, one with which Brandemihl heartily Brandemihl, current board

Another humorous barb came from fellow trustee Gary Garri-son. Garrison told how, when he first began serving on the board four years ago, he began wonder-ing about Brandemilh's shoes.

Weighill, now a political science teacher at a community college in Flint, served on the board with Brandemihl for six years. He said he knew her for 10 years, or 'one-third of my life." Weighill praised her for her closeness to the Clarenceville community, for being a 'model' school board trustee, and for having a "penchant for asking the tough questions and holding people accountable."
"You didn't accept mediorricy and incompetence," Weighill said. "Everything you have done, it was aimed at giving students, taxpayers, parents the schools they deserve."
