

History on the move

Road to remember: The historic Kirby White House was moved one mile in May of 1993 from its original location at the corner of Farmington and 11 Mile roads. The house was originally designed by renowned architect Marcus Burrows for White, an executive for the Ferry Morse Seed Company, and sat on a five-acre farm. It was moved by owners Wayne and Cynthia Elliot to the corner of Farmington and 10 Mile, where it was restored and preserved.
