

Taxpayers can help state's nongame fish, wildlife

OUTDOOR INSIGHTS

Between ice fishing, rabbit hunting, searching for shed antlers and visiting all the outdoor shows in the area, many people are also thinking about those dreaded tax returns.

While musing over your tax forms, take a moment to consider making a small donation to the Nongame Fish and Wildlife Fund.

While game animals and fish like deer, turkey, salmon and trout receive much assistance from hunting and fishing license revenue, non-game animals and fish don't receive such support. The Nongame Fish and Wildlife Fund was set up to provide such assistance. Donations to the fund provide critical support to many of Michigan's threatened, endangered and non-game species.

Last year, tax payers set a record of nearly $735,000 was raised. That's a 25-percent increase over 1998.

"Last year was an exceptional year for the Nongame Wildlife Fund," said Ray Rustum, supervisor of the Nongame Wildlife Fund. "We were pleased to see a reversal in the trend of declining donor numbers to the program. The increased funding has allowed us to accomplish many things, including increasing our grant program by $100,000."

One of last year's major programs supported by the fund was the reintroduction of ospreys at Kensington Metropark and the Maple River State Game Area, north of St. Johns.

The fund also helped support 25 mini-grants provided to schools developing outdoor education sites. The fund is also responsible for the reintroduction of the gray wolf in the Upper Peninsula and peregrine falcons at six locations in the state.

To make a donation simply enter the amount of your refund you'd like to contribute to the Nongame Wildlife Fund. (Line 27 of the 1040 form and line 14 of the 1040 EZ form.)

"We invite everyone who fills out a tax form to become a part of this exciting program," Rustum said. "Just 'Look for the Loon' on your state income tax form and fill in the amount you wish to donate. It's the best way I know to show your support for Michigan's wildlife heritage."

Osprey logo designs

The Feb. 1 deadline for entries in the osprey logo design contest has been extended to March 1. Young artists between the ages of 12 and 18 are encouraged to submit entries of a logo that symbolizes the effort to re-introduce osprey to the area.

In a joint effort between the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and the Detroit Zoo, four osprey chicks were released in Kensington Metropark last summer. The hope is that these raptors will return to the area to nest and raise their young in a couple years when they reach maturity. More chicks will be brought into Kensington over the next two summers in an attempt to re-establish wild nesting populations in the park.

The winning design will be used in a variety of ways including use on printed material as well as T-shirts.

Design should be done on an 8-by-11-inch unlined piece of paper. Entries must be received by March 1. Send entries to: Osprey Contest, DNR Natural Heritage Program, P.O. Box 30444, Lansing, MI 48909-7994. Be sure to include your name, address and phone number.
