A grand gala

Grand Night: Lisa Harris of Detroit and Steve Lewis of Farmington Hills enjoy A Grand Night at the Ritz Carlton in Dearborn recently. The gala raised $230,000 for the Women's Committee for Hospice Care.

Seminar focus is nutrition

Eating out should be a multi-sensory treat; unfortunately, it can also be a caloric and fat minefield for those watching their weight. As a result of an innovative seminar in early March for area chefs at Detroit's Health Development Network, diners will find more lighter, leaner dishes this spring at some of their favorite Oakland County restaurants. Featuring celebrated restaurateur Lorraine Platman, executive chef and proprietor of Sweet Lorraine's Cafe in Southfield, Ann Arbor and Madison Heights, Cooking Smart in '99 is designed for restaurant chefs and owners interested in building their business and broadening their appeal to health-conscious clientele. The seminar, held Tuesday, March 2, at HDN in Novi, is co-sponsored by the Oakland County Worksite and Community Health Promotion program and Oakland Heart Health Coalition. Each Cooking Smart in '99 participant will receive a certificate and can bring one recipe for a free analysis. The recipient of numerous accolades, including the prestigious Wine Spectator's 1996 Award of Excellence, Platman will talk about bridging two seemingly contradictory national food trends: low-fat needs and bold, flavorful desires. Her demonstrations will include preparation of an array of recipes based on modification techniques and ingredient substitutions. Cooking Smart in '99 will be held 8-10:30 a.m. (check-in at 7:45 a.m.) at HDN, 39760 Grand River Ave., Novi. The cost is $15 per person. For more information, call 477-8100.

SAJE seminars still open

SAJE, Seminars for Adult Jewish Enrichment, has had an overwhelming response from the community. Nearly 1,200 course registrations have already been received for this first-of-its-kind program in metropolitan Detroit. Term 2, beginning this week and running through March 13, is still open for registration and walk-ins will be welcome. For more information or to receive a brochure, call the Jewish Community Center at 661-7649.
