POINTS OF VIEW

Here's to Comerica's 150th

those of us with long memories and sentimental hearts, the last quarter century has been a rough time for Michigan institu-

Etons.

Remember Vernors ginger ale? In my memory, Vernors was the essential ingredient for a proper ginger ale float. I still recall being driven by my parents to the big green and yellow plant on Woodward, while being instructed about just why Vernors was so much better than Canada

Dry.
Sadly, Vernors has been gone for a long time.
More recently, Stroh's got sold to Heileman and miller. My childhood memories of beer and Ernile Harwell announcing the ball games on the radio run from Goebel (also disappeared) to Strob's. I don't listen to baseball much any more, but I always bought Strob for sentiment's sake and because Peter Strob and his family were exemplars of what good, decent, locally were exemplars of what good, decent, locally responsible people ought to be. And by now everybody who isn't taking inten-erman lessons knows full well that what ed to know as Chrysler is now something called DaimlerChrysler.

- The old names, very eften associated with old families, aren't much with us any longer. Which is why it's nice to celebrate a business with a solid name that's intensely focused on Michigan, that looks like it'll be around for a Michigan, that looks like it'll be around for a while and that has helped countless local businesses. I'm referring to Comerica, the oldest and largest bank in Michigan, that will celebrate its 150th anniversary on Friday.

Originally chartered in 1849 as the Detroit Savings Fund Institute and then better known as the Detroit Bank & Trust, Comerica assumed as the Detroit Bank & Trust, Comerica assumed its present name in 1982. In 1992, Comerica merged with Manufacturers National Corp.

The merger was difficult. The 'reds' (old Comerica employees) were interlarded with the 'blues' (ex-Manufacturers staffers) in such a way as to perpetuate for years the competition between the two.

The stock price fell, and for a time Comerica looked as though it would be taken over and move out of Michigan in just the same way that the National Bank of Detroit got taken over and moved to Chicago by First Chicago-NBD Bank

But CEO Eugene Miller (a "red") and President Mike Monahan (a "blue") moved quickly. dent Mike Monanan (a blue) moved quicky.
They eliminated poor risk loans, expanded branches throughout the region and redeployed their capital. The stock responded and has now appreciated so much as to make Comerica near-ly takeover-proof.

Having an independent, well-managed bank with a solid focus on providing banking services to Michigan businesses and households is vitally

🕮 The bank has corporations in the entire southeastern Michigan

region, generous in its donations to forthcoming in its assign top executives to worth-while causes. Cou-excellent business

that's an outstanding record for any company, locally charities and willingness to pled with Its performance,

based or not.

been one of the most civic-minded important to the future of our state Though the folks at First Chicago-NBD will deny it till the ne home. that bank has no more particular interest in Michigan than it has in any other state. It's too bad. But that's life, and that's what happens when a big local company ts merged with a gets merged with a bigger nonlocal com pany and moves

But not (so far) at Comerica. The bank has been one of the most civic-minded corporations in the entire southeastern Michigan region, generous in its dona-tions to charities and forthcoming in its whitingness to assign top executives to worthwhile causes. Coupled with its excellent business performance, that's an outstanding record for any company, locally

Here's a tall, cold one (a Stroh's, of course) hoisted to Comerica's 150th. I hope they'll be t solid Michigan-oriented company for many,

Phil Power is chairman of HomeTown Com munications Network Inc., the company that owns this newspaper. He welcomes your com-ments, either by voice mail at (734) 953-2047. Ext. 1880, or by e-mail: ppower@ceonline.com

Ameritech is still at it y knuckles are still raw from the last beating inflicted on Ameritech Michigan, the unfriendly telephone

W Michigan, the unfriendly telephone company that loves to fire people and tie them up in court with interminable appeals. Duty calls, however, because Ameritech is still at it, this time losing before the Michigan Public Service Commission and the state Court of Appeals. The court opinion is 10 pages of legaliams. In sum, the terms "misleading," "false," "deceptive" and "anticompetitive" pop up with frightening frequency.

quency.
The unanimous, bipartisan Feb. 12 opinion is signed by Stephen Markman and Robert Young Jr. (Engler appointees) and Helene White (Clinton's designee for a federal slot). It finds that "Ameritech sent a missist). leading and anti-competitive bill insert to its customers in violation of the Michigan Telecommunications Act. "That's fascinating because insiders say Ameritech's lobbyista

In December 1995, we all recived an insert in our Ameritech bills headlined "DON'T GET SLAMMED." Slamming is the "DONT GET SLAMMED." Slamming is the practice of some long-distance providers of billing you for services you never ordered. The insert invited us to fill out a form to avoid slamming for "long-distance or other telecommunications services."

Here the plot thickens. The notice doesn't differentiate between inter-LATA (long distance) and intra-LATA (local area code calls found to the produced of the providers of the produced of for which we pay long distance rates).

Sprint complained to the MPSC. It seems that on Jan. 1, 1996, competition was to be allowed for intra-LATA calls. The bill insert allowed for intra-LATA calls. The only mar-does not remind customers that Ameritech Michigan was required to implement intra-LATA to dialing parity for 10 percent of its customers on January 1, 1996 and that local service would soon be available from other roviders," MPSC said. Here's the trick: If you signed the slam-riere's the trick: if you signed the stam-mer protection notice, you couldn't authorize Sprint, MCI or AT&T to be your short long-distance provider. The competitors would be unable to inform Ameritech that you wanted a change. You would have to notify a change. You would have to notify Ameritech yourself to make a change.

MPSC ruled that the competitors feared Ameritech "will delay requests from customers to change providers and that it will use the contact as an opportunity to try to disauade the customer from leaving Ameritech ... (T) here's ample evidence that Accepted Michigan understood the bill insert to be anticompetitive and intended it to have that effect."

MPSC ordered Ameritech to make reme dies, including a corrective bill insert and

Will Ameritech fold its tent like a good corporate citizen, stop the appeals, obey the MPSC order and take its punishment from the attorney general like a man? its behavior in other cases suggests Ameritech will appeal forever.

easier changes in service providers. MPSC also sought to send the case file to the attorney general 'for review of possible action under the Michigan Consumer Protection Act.' (It will be fun to see if Attorney Generation) al Jennifer Granholm remembers her "I'll take your case" political speech and prose-cutes Ameritech vigorously.)

cutes Ameritech vigorously.) Ameritech's lawyers threw up all sorts of arguments, every one of which was shot down by the Court of Appeals. One was Ameritech's customer survey purporting to show that customers correctly understood the insert. MPSC found the survey "selfserving and unrealistic," having "fundamen-tal flaws due to the nature of the questions, tat mass due to the nature of the questions, the tone of the interviews and people excluded from the sample." The court agreed.

The court also rejected Ameritach's defense of "free speech," saying, "False, deceptive or misleading advertising is subject to marriach." to restraint ...

Will Ameritech fold its tent like a good corporate citizen, stop the appeals, obey the MPSC order and take its punishment from the attorney general like a man? Its behav-ior in other cases suggests Ameritech will appeal forsver.

If Ameritech appeals, then I propo the American appears, their propose are stockholders not be stuck with the legal bill. The lawyers costs should come from Presi-dent Bob Cooper's bonus and salary. Misleading, Deceptive, False, Anticompet-

Tim Richard reports on the local implica-tions of state and regional events. His Touch-Tone voice mail number is (734) 953-2047, Ext. 1881.

Introducing the Huntington Financial Page

Imagine a financial page that talks only about your finances. One that not only provides you with a snapshot of your financial situation, but can tell you how prepared you are to meet your long-term goals.

Well, there is such a page. It's the Huntington Financial Page. And it's only available from The Huntington Investment Company. With it, you get a Personalized Financial Analysis, and suggestions on ways to plan for the years ahead, all based on your own personal financial history, and your own personal goals.

Investment & Retirement Planning

Whether you're planning for the purchase of a new home, saving for a college education, or investing for retirement, the Huntington Financial Page can help. A Huntington Investment Represent will get you started. Then, they'll take you through your detailed Personalized Financial Analysis which will help you identify your opportunities and your shortfalls. And, as your needs or goals change, your Investment Representative will be there to help you analyze, monitor and update your plan.

Before You Invest, We'll Invest In You

Planning early can benefit you in the future. And now, the Huntington Financial Page and Personalized Financial Analysis are available to you at no cost. So start reading about yourself on the financial page. Stop by any Huntington office or call, toll-free, 1-877-480-7384.

Not FDIC Insured • May Lose Value • No Bank Guarantee

nd planning products and services are offered by The Humbroton Investment Company, a subsk 1M9C3SP1ALL