ONLY ELEVEN VOTE AGAINST IT

Water Works Election Carries Easily the Second Time

As expected the special village election held Tuesday passed off very quietly and the result as before almost unanimously in favor of bonding for water works.

The vote stood 104 in favor and 11 against while at the previous election it was 128 for and 23 against the proposition.

The work can now go forward whenever the weather conditions are favorable, which will likely be next spring.

However, there will be no more delay for the council will have ample opportunity, to prepare for an early resumption of work as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

The Union Thanksgiving Service

The union Thanksgiving service held in the M. E. church Thursday morning was well attended by the various members and friends of the different denominations under whose auspices the service was held. J. A. Griffin, M. A.; and Mr. Klump were the speakers. Music was furnished by the M. E. choir and Mr. Prouse of Pontiac. Miss Tessa Pierson and Miss Goucher rendered violin solos which were greatly appreciated.

The various gifts received for "others" were numerous and useful.

Basket Ball in the Town Hall

We understand that the Athletic association of Farmington has secured the town hall for basket ball this winter at the price of wiring the hall for electricity at their own expense. We are indeed pleased that the young people are to have a place where they may congregate for healthful and interesting sport during the winter months.

Next Sunday at Baptist Church

The services at the Baptist church Sunday, Dec. 3, are as follows: Morning service at 10:30. Mr. Klump will speak upon the subject, "What are you worth?" Bible school at close of service. Evening service at seven o'clock. One-half hour song service led by W. E. Prouse, graduate of Hamner School of Music. A chorus of young people from Detroit will be present and assist in the evening service. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A Lively Runaway at Redford

A runaway engaged the attention of quite a large crowd that happened to be on the streets of Redford Saturday afternoon. Although no one was seriously injured there was a fair prospect that one man, at least, would be pretty badly shaken up, but luckily he was proof against bad bruises and escaped without damage although he was bounced out of his wagon onto the hard ground.

The team that ran was owned by a Mr. Taylor and they started off with seemingly no provocation. They had been tied in front of Labser's store and the driver started to drive them across the street to water them at the Cort pump and did not get into the wagon, but walked across holding the lines. The horses made a break and the driver stumbled, losing hold of the lines. The team, finding themselves free, ran completely round the hotel, barely escaping other rigs, and then started west on Grand River avenue. In front of Coleman's place they bumped up against the rear end of the wagon of Eugene Ames, who was on his way toward home. He had no warning of approaching danger until just about the time of the collision and had no opportunity to get out of the way. He was thrown into the road and the reach of the wagon broken. He pluckily held on to the lines and was dragged along for a short distance, but managed to stop the team. The runaway animals both fell down when they struck Ames wagon and were quickly captured. Taylor's wagon was damaged somewhat, but the team escaped uninjured.

Glazier Receivership Closed

The closing of the receivership of the Chelsea Savings Bank last week brings to a close the affairs of the Glazier bank. The matter has been so handled that depositors lose only a small fraction of their claims. Only $75,000 more is due the state and that is fully secured by the bonding companies and will be paid in full.

AUCTIONS COME THICK AND FAST

SEASON FOR PUBLIC SALES OPENS EARLY

Four Good Ones Scheduled for the Next Few Days in This Vicinity

The auction season starts early this year. There are three scheduled in this vicinity for the next few days and we presume more are to follow.

In these there is a good lot of stock offered, some of good grade and doubtless there will be a good crowd out to each one.

On Saturday of this week Joseph Egan, who lives one mile north and three miles east of Farmington, will sell, beginning at twelve o'clock, two horses, 11 head of cattle, mostly cows, some hay, potatoes, aerator, milk cans, etc. He has been in the milk business and is about to quit it and wishes to dispose of his outfit.

On Monday of next week James E. Clinton, as administrator, will sell the personal property of the late Peter Clinton at public auction. The sale will take place on the farm which is located in Redford township on the Greenfield town line road, 3 1/2 miles north of Grand River avenue. Twenty-five head of cattle, all good grade Holsteins, will be offered, as well as five horses and a long list of articles which are advertised in this paper this week.

Next Wednesday, Dec. 6, L. C. Miller, who lives in Redford, at the corner of the Waterford road and Grand River road, will have an auction as he is to retire from farming. The sale commences at ten o'clock and a fine free lunch at noon is a tempting feature. Two horses, six good cows and a lot of farm machinery, tools, etc., including wagons, buggies and also some hay, corn, oats and a lot of other things will be sold.

Carl Ely has engaged in other business and will dispose of his personal farm property at his farm on the electric road one mile south of Farmington next Thursday. His full page advertisement in this paper shows a fine lot of stock and other property to be disposed of and the offerings should draw out a big crowd.

Lovely Mary Impersonations

Gertrude Upholt Hansens will give impersonations of Lovely Mary, the sequel to Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, in the M. E. church Thursday evening, Dec. 7, under the auspices of the choir and Epworth League. Admission 20c and 15c. Tickets may be purchased from the school children who will be admitted free when they have sold ten tickets.

Junior Class Entertainment

The Junior class of the Farmington high school will give an entertainment in the town hall Saturday evening, Dec. 2, at 8 o'clock. The class will be assisted by Guy Irving Waltz of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Waltz is a delightful singer of folk lore songs. He is a graduate of the Boston conservatory and plays the auto harp as an accompaniment. While Mr. Waltz rests his voice, Supt. Goodrich will exhibit and demonstrate wireless telegraphy. The C. D. Q. will be sounded. Admission 15c.

Universalist Service Sunday

Dr. Lee S. McColister will preach in the Universalist church in Farmington next Sunday afternoon.
