Groups share proceeds

At a luncheon at the Oak Pointe Country Club, the Women of North Farmington presented funds received from an annual auction held at the Clubhouse of Muirwood in April to various community groups.
Recipients of the total of $5,000 in proceeds included Meals on Wheels for homebound seniors, Neighborhood House also known as the Hand Start school program; Pendrickton Center for Blind Children; and the Open Door Outreach Center.
In spite of its name, residency is not a requirement for membership to the club that functions as a volunteer service group.
For its 41 years of service and thousands of dollars raised for donation to worthy organizations, the club has received the honor of being named "Volunteer Group of the Year" from United Community Services of Detroit, an honorary award from the Farmington Community Libraries and the Brotherhood Award from WOMC.

Nancy Saunders, installed as president of Women of North Farmington at the show, was raised in Farmington.
"We've tried to come through when a need is known," she said. "We are a combination of fun socials including trips to Meadowbrook Hall and tours of historic churches and raising money for worthwhile causes."
