eradicator, but feared to harm the wood by using it, but at lest through some good fortune she struck on the idea of making is solution of a feat drops of nitric acid in a tesapoonful of water. She took a feather and touched the spots, quickly wiping off with a wet cloth. This was re-peated till all the ink atial dissp-peared. She then brightened the spot with a bit of furniture oil, and no one would ever be able to tell no one would ever be able to tell that an ink splotch had been on that deek top.

This idea can be put to good use on no matter what kind of varnished wood the ink stain might be.

MISS SEARS' EPIGRAM.

Miss Eleanor Sears, who is to marry Harold Vanderbilt, is not extravagant; but naturally, having no need to economize, she objects to the monotonous and irksome self-denial hat economy implies.

In Boston, last winter, Miss Sears contemplated the purchase of a Bleriot monoplane equipped with a 100-horse power Gnome motor. A friend ventured to lay before her the extravagant cost of aviation, whereextravagant cost of a varion, where-upon she epigrammatically replied: "Well, I like extravagance. Economy, anyhow, is only a way of spending money without getting any fun out of it."
