Crusaders try to fill holes in roster

Major losses.

That's the first thing that strikes anyone familiar with Madonna University's men's soccer program. The team that won the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference in each of its first two seasons as a lengue member — losing just one conference match in the process — is facing major problems in 1999.

After all, the Fighting Crusaders had five senior starters on last season's squad. Two of them, Scott Emert and Ryan Mollien (Livonia), were good enough to play this summer for the Mid-Michigan Bucks, men bers of the Premier Development League who went 20-3.

A lot to replace, right? But

A lot to replace, right? But wait — there's more.
Madonna coach Pete Alexander knew he would need a massive infusion of new talent after losing seniors Emert, Mollien, Keith Gniewek (Plymouth Canton), Jason Hazinski (Redford Thurston) and Victor Rodopoulos
(Livonia Franklin).
Then he est some other news:

(Livonia Franklin).
Then he got some other news:
Lael Bryant and James Catlett were transferring, and Steve Kujawa and Bill Scherle (Redford Catholic Central/Canton) were not coming back.
That led to the coup de grace.
Four of Alexander's top recruits
— Tim Rais (Farmington), P.J.

Strannhan (Troy), Chris Jaskolski (Schoolcraft College/Plymouth Salem) and Ryan Konley (Schoolcraft/Plymouth Salem) — suffered academic difficulties and will be ineligible.

Those are unbelievably talented players, "Alexander said." If we could add those four to our current roster, you would see us going to nationals. Without them, I'm not sure we can win the WHAC."

All those setbacks — and you

Maybe they should be. The league's top freshman from latt we will have sectavely a chance?

"Well, I am really happy with the guys we have coming in," Alexander replied.

In other words, the Crusaders could have been extremely good. Now they may have to settle for very good.

There is still pleaty of ammunitation to carry this team to the NAIA regionals and beyond. One reason is a restructured playoff format.

The NAIA has expanded its regions from eight to 14 regions and its national tournament qualifiers from 12 to 16 teams. The Michigan/Indiana region Madonna would play in is actually a four-team playoff between the top two teams in the Mid-Continent Conference and the WHAC.

"Knowing that, you've got to" the Mid-Continent Conference and the WHAC.

like our chances," said Alexander. "But I like Siena Heights' chances, too."

The Sainta figure to be Madonna's top rival in the conference. Others to watch are Tri-State University and Indiana Tech.

Still, Alexander knows who the rest of the WHAC will be gunning for —the Crusaders are wearing the bulls-eye.

"We'll probably be ranked No. 1 in the region in the pre-season," Alexander conceded.

Maybe they should be. The league's top freshman from last season was midfielder Sam Piraine; he netted 14 goals and eight assists for Madonna.

And he's just one of several standouts returning. Charlie Bell, a senior midfielder who has twice been an NAIA honorable mention All-American, is the Crusaders' leading returnee. Bell had five goals and II assists last season.

Then there's keeper Dave played in two years, and freshmen Bill Fischer (Westland/Livenia Franklin) and Jeremy Hurnak (Stevenson), and the makings of another impressive defense are there.

The midfield, with Firaine, Bell, part-time starter Keith Barber and a load of newcomers — Brian Murphy, Oleg Chowkovy, Joe Suchara (a keeper at Stevenson, he'll play both for Madonna) and Matt Buzewski (Livenia Churchill) — is well-stocked.

The front line is thin with the loss of Emert and Rodopoulos and Rais' ineligibility. But Alexander will have secrors.

Michael Healy, a sophomore transfer from Eastern Michigan, is the top prospect. I know Healy will be able to step in there, said Alexander. But we're lacking a second forward, true forward.
Chovkovy, who has a strong fill that slot. Freshman John will have to come together for the Crusaders to match last season's 20.3 mark. And, with a key defender gone and the entire front line needing to be replaced, coming together quickly may be Madonna's greatest challenge.

Fury, Patriots in close games

Fair warning: If you're weak of heart, be wary of any Wayne. County Twisters football games. The Twisters football games. The Twisters football games. The Twisters football games. The Twisters football League, ran their record to 4-0 but not without some last-second heroics. Their third-straight win came against the Black Swamp Patricts Aug. 7 in McComb, Ohio. Trailing by a touchdown with only seconds remaining. Twister quarterback Rob Elswick tossed a 25-yard touchdown pass to Reggie Brandon (Wayne) to pull out a 20-19 triumph. But Saturday's game against the Zanesville (Ohio) Fury at the Academy of Detroit in Inkster proved to be even more dramatic, with the Twisters prevailing in overtime, 20-14. Another Elswick-to-Brandon TD pass covering 45 yavds late in the secoring 45 yavds late in the secoring dynamic and the subsequent extra-point conversion by Chuck Petitpas (Livonia) put the Twisters up 7-5.

It remained that way until, with less than three minutes left in the game, the Fury score day on p 14-7. But the Twisters answered with Elswick finding Leonard Morawa with a 22-yard TD pass with 55 seconds to go up 14-7. A 54-yard field-goal attempt by Petitpas as regulation time expired, set up by a Fury fumble, fell short, resulting in OT. Unfortunetly for the Fury, the extra session began as regulation ended — with a fumble. The Twisters answered with a seven-play touchdown drive, with Lamar Spaulding (West-land) powering his way into the end zone for the winning score.
