

Art Van hosts a night for angels

The Cardinal: Art Van Elslander, CEO of Art Van Furniture stores, with Cardinal Adam Maida of the Archdiocese of Detroit at the benefit for Angel's Place hosted by Art Van Furniture in Novi.

The Angel's Place benefit held last Wednesday at Art Van Furniture in Novi raised $17,000 for the nonprofit organization providing homes and hope to men and women with developmental disabilities.

Cardinal Adam Maida of the Archdiocese of Detroit was guest of honor at the benefit evening which also celebrated the grand reopening of Art Van Furniture in Novi. An expansion and renovation project was just completed at the store.

Over 350 guests attended the evening which offered a strolling supper and wine reception by Five Lakes Grill of Milford and live musical entertainment by jazz trio Cheers.

For more information on Angel's Place or to make a donation, call 350-2203, ext. 155.

Resident helper: Scott Walker, a resident of the Angel's Place Home in Troy, with Art Van Elslander at the Angel's Place Benefit at Art Van Furniture. Residents hung coats and greeted party-goers.

Party-goer: Ruth Sinawi of Farmington Hills poses with Art Van Elslander at the benefit gala.

Help make a difference

Now through Oct. 23, students from the Farmington After-School program will participate in Blizzard Buddies - collecting gently used sweaters, coats, scarves and mittens for those in need.

On Oct. 23, "Make a Difference Day," the students along with Miss Farmington and her court and the Marines and other volunteers will load a truck with the articles collected.

The clothes will be delivered to kids and adults in Oakland County so that everyone can have a warm winter.

Drop-off locations include Warner Middle School, Tuesdays and Thursdays; the Costco Center, Monday through Friday; and the Ice Arena, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Containers will be placed at each location and marked Make A Difference. All articles should be clean and in good condition.

This event is sponsored by the Farmington Children Youth and Family Services department. For more information, call Kim at 400-8641, Roselee at 426-1549, or Sheryl at 473-1841.
