North's McComb leads list of top players

Tim Szakal and Patricia Rich were named co-coaches of the Redford St. Agatha girls basket-ball program this season. Rich had one year of previous coaching experience to Szakal's coaching experience to Szakal's seven.

But usk Szakal who learned the most and he'll say he did.

Szakal only coached boys bakketball previously. He spent the least four seasons as the high school boys varsity assistant coach after coaching the St. Agaths fifth and sixth grade boys for three years.

boys for three years.

Rich's experience included one season as an assistant varsity girls basketball coach at the high school and a season as the seventh and eighth grade girls enth and eighth grade girls coach.

When girls varsity coach/ath-latic director Dave Feldman left before the school year for similar positions at Centerline St. Clement, Szakal and Rich decide to combine titles.
Their first year with the girls varsity was a smashing success as the Aggies rolled to a 22-2 record, winning the Catholic League C-D Division and Class D district championables. The Aggies won a regional semifinal before losing in the regional final to Portiand St. Patrick's, the eventual state champion.

They have been named Oberverland Co-Coaches of the Year.

"I was a little apprehensive (about taking the job)." Stakal said. "But I couldn't think of a bigger mistake if I had turned it down. I learned a lot from the girls. We met our goals and exceeded them."

Brakal and Rich said the leadership of seniors Sonia Lousis, Karry Shivers and Krystol Dennie, a transfer from Redford Bishop Borgess, eased the transition.

Rich and Szakal are 1998

Bishop Borgess, easeq the tran-cition. Rich and Szakal are 1993 graduates of St. Agatha, friends since grade school. Each excelled in sports at St. Agatha, not on the same teams, of course, and enjoy seeing the game from the coatch's seat.

Rich also was a star thrower on the Central Michigan University track team. She earmed a teacher's degree and is in her second year teaching seventh grade at 8t. Agatha.

"The big difference as ceach is auddehly you're in the role of making decisions, the role of making decisions with the seniors.

Baskal, an excellent sudent of the game, is someone Rich turns to for help in X's and O's. Brakal has always looked up to John Fenbert, the varsity boys ceach at 8t. Agatha, and Jim Murphy, his former boys varsity ceach.
