HomeTown Putting you in touch

Candidates: Tim Richard, state and regional reporter, takes a look at candidates for Wayne State University./ A11

Utilities: Farmington Hills residents tell their thoughts to the public utilities commission./A12

COMMUNITYCUTE

Looking back: Vintage Farmington includes a peek into the history of the Cook Building on Grand River in down-town Farmington. Built in the late 1800s, the restored building holds lots of history./B1

SPORTS

Advantage: Farmington High did what a good football team is supposed to do Friday and took advantage of the opponent's mistakes. The Fal-cons trounced Livonia Stevenson 19-3./C1

	XEQ!
■ Opinion	A14-15
Obituaries	A5
□ Crossword	G
■ Classified Index	G5
Autos	J5
Home & Service	J3
Jobs	H4
Rentals	Hı
■ Community Life	B1
#Sports	Cı
■ Enterteinment	Ei
Real Estate	F1

Woman charged in robberies

BY LARRY O'CONNOR STAFF WRITER loconnor@oc.homecomm.net

A Southfield woman charged in an armed robbery of a Farmington Hills shoe store had rent to pay, which police believe inspired a crime spreethat has included several area believe.

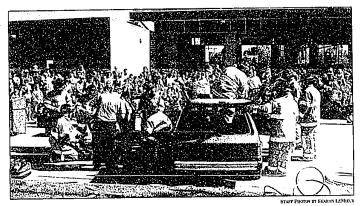

that has increased the holdups. Shavone Sharie Davis, 25, is in jail in lieu of $100,000 cash bond in connection with the armed robbery at Parade of Shoes on Orchard Lake Saturiay night. Around 9 p.m., a woman brandishing a handgun entered the store. She stole money, a purse and several pairs of shoes before fleeing. No one was instead.

of shoes before Heeing. No one was injured.

A not guilty plea was entered for Davis during an arraigament Sunday by 47th District Court Magistrate Dennia Pheney on one count of armed robbery, which carries a penalty of up to life in prisen. Davis' preliminary exam is Friday in 47th District Court.

Please see ROBBERIES, AG

Serving Farmington and Farmington Hills for 111 years YFARMINGTON: MICHIGAN! (86:PAGES!) http://obselver.eccentric.com

Demo: Battalion Chief Corey Bartsch narrates to the crowd of cub scouts and regular folks about the procedures of response to a heart attack victim. Gill Elementary Cub Scout leader Mike Thomas performs CPR while 15-year-old Blake Belsky resuscitates the dummy.

Learning

Open house $draws\ crowds$

ulini would have had a hoot of time, but the building would have had a hoot of time, but the building real great escape artists may turn out to be those who attended the annual Farmington Hills Fire Department's open house Sunday. An estimated 4,000-5,000 people showed up for the event that features sirens, clowns, akits and, most importantly, a fire prevention message. This year's theme in keeping with fire prevention safety month was 'The Great Escape.'

For that, children and parents heard how they should replace smake detectors that are 10 years or older and the importance of changing their batteries regularly.

one make the inspectation of the season of the season of the season smoke detectors when they switch back their clocks Oct. 25. Those who attended experience the practical ins and outs of getting out of a burning Please see FIRE, A7

Learning: Danny Vigi, 5 of Farmington Hills tries on gear with the help of probationary firefighter Theresa Schultes Children were encouraged to "Stop, drop and roll" on a floor

REPOSEVENTY-FIVE CENTS Moffitt pays $500 fine

■ Still waiting. That's how to describe the resolution on a county commissioner's campaign finance report. But he's already paid a fine.

By LARRY O'CONNOR STAFF WRITER locomor@oe.homecomm.net

Oakland County Commission incumbent David Moffitt has paid the price for his lateness in filing a campaign finance report.

Moffitt paid the $500 fine, which is the maximum penalty assessed for not filing a timely campaign finance report. The post-primary report was due Sept. 3.

"It's in progress, but it's not completed," Moffitt said. "We've been shorthanded at work. My staff is working hard as possible to meet a number of deadlines, this being non of them.

"We just haven't been able to complete it at the level of accuracy that we're comfortable with."

Candidates are fined $25 per business day up to $500 after Oct. 2. The reports are required under law and list campaign donations and those who contributed. The reports also detail how the money was spent.

Moffitt reportedly spent $12,000 most of it his own – to beat Farmington Hills businessewman Linda Jolicocur in the Republican primary Aug. 4.

"If most of the money came out of his own packet, what would be the hold

Residents respond favorably to council

BY KATHE O'DONOHUE SPECIAL WRITER

Tak Kambe, a Tokyo native whose family transferred here in January 1996, says that although the move represents "a big change," he "feels very secure: Farmington Hills is a safe city." Members of the Farmington/Farmington Hills Multicultural/Multiracial Community Council were pleased to hear Kambe's remarks, a testimony to the effectiveness of the council scale. According to its mission statement, the group strives "to assure that all residents of our community enjoy a harmonious, healthy environment and that they feel welcome and comfortable in their cities, schools and neighborhoods. The MCMR Council is dedicated to promoting awareness and acceptance of diversity in our community. The group's most recent meeting Oct. 8 at the Farmington Training Center, was moderated by Roger Weber. WDIV Channel 4 reporter and nine-year Hills resident, who related that we all "need a feeling of being connected to the community."

Crowned

Royalty: Dominique Jackson was crowned the Harrison High School Homecoming Queen this past weekend. She is with her escort Andrew

Burt. Turn to page A7 for more.

In existence since 1990, the council holds meetings and workshops throughout the year to encourage active discussion of issues related to the diverse mix of cultures in the Farmington/Farmington Hills area.

Is it working? Do those from other Please con Militania and the second of the council of the second of the council of t

Commission meetings leave Gesund wondering

BY LARRY O'CONNOR STAFF WRITER

leconnovioe.hemecum.net

If Mister Smith ean go to Washington, Ryan Gesund figures Pontine can't be too much of a longshot.

From a political science graduate's perspective, Gesund is a bit bewildered by what he's seen while attending Oakland County Commission meetings in recent months. Sessions are about as organized as a Jerry Springer episode
on polygame

on polygamy nmong pig-mies, he con-

among pigmies, he conchedds.

Whenever you get a unit of government that has more than six or 10 members, it gets very confusing," said Gosund, who works in his family's car wash business. Everyone is talking at once. There are about 50 discussions going on. They are being interviewed by the press while the meeting is going on. They'll hear their name called and they'll say 'yes,' but they don't know what they're saying yes to."

Gesund knew what he was saying

Election

yes to when he decided to run for the 18th District seat. The district includes northern Farmington Hills and has 14 year incumbent David Mofflit occupy, the seat.

The Democrat wants to unsent the Republican county commissioner in the Nov. 3 election.

Tase things that 1 could do better that are not being done, 'Gesund said,' Igo to these meetings and I want to speak up, but I can't speak up because I'm not a county commissioner.'

Gesund believes he has an 'inkling' of what's going on at the county level. Aside from attending meetings, he's kept abreast on issues through the Democratic caucus.

If elected, he'd like to be one of the four county commissioners on the mental health authority board.

"I've studied the issue so much,' I think I can do some good there,' he said.

He also knows about the urgent need said.

He also knows about the urgent need to enhance the outmoded 9-1-1 emergency equipment countywide. He just winces at the proposed solution, which means a 57-cent surcharge on phone

Please see GESUMD, A8