Falcons stage comeback

Farmington High rebounded from a loss in its first match Saturday to win its final four in a team-dual tournament at Auburn Hills Avondale. Mount Clemens rallied late in the match to overcome Farmington and poet a 44-36 victory. The Falcons regrouped and defeated Ypsilanti Lincoln (33-31), Avondale (43-22), Clarenceville (53-26) and Utica (40-34) in consecutive contests.

In the Mount Clemens match, Farmington had 36 points following the 160-pound bout. But the Falcons didn't win another match and gave up four straight pins, allowing the Bathers to rally and win the dual.

Basically, we gave the match to Mount Clemens, Farmington coach Al Beyar said. We were disappointed with our first match. Obviously, we were upset about it. We had a little talk and everybody did a lot better afact that.

A pair of Farmington wrestlers were winners in all five duals --- Jon Simmons at 119 and Mike Murtland at 160.

Simmons recorded three pins, including one at 125 against Utica, and won twice by void. Murtland planed four opponents and had one walkover.

WRESTLING

Murtland was behind in the Mount Clemens match 4-0 after one period, 6-2 after two and 7-6 in the third at which time he pinned his opponent. Mark Ostach (152) and Ben Lukas (189) won four of five bouts.

After losing a decision against Mount Clemens,
Ostach pinned his last four opponents. Lukas won

James Clarahan (146) and Tom Mahon (140) sat out one match apiece and finished with 3-1 records. Aaron Turk (130) won three of five bouts. The Falcons lost 171-pound Dustin Gress with a dislocated elbow. He split his first two bouts and was winning against Clarenceville when he got burt.

Hancock stays unbeaten
