Only God Is Perfect

We all have to realize that each of us has flaws and shortcomings, and we should accept others as they are, and in turn, hopefully, others will accept us as we are. However, this does not mean that we should not try to continually improve ourselves. We should always act and behave as God would want us to, and treat others as we would want to be treated.

It is really a blessing from God to know oneself; however, it seems that we can usually find fault with others much easier than we can with ourselves. Seeing faults in others should induce us to correct our own weaknesses and help us strive to be more understanding and patient with those around us.

Only God is perfect, but if we seek His will and try to be the best that we can be, we can each become better persons and more pleasing to our heavenly Father.

Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye but do not notice the log that is in your own eye?

R.S.V. Luke 6:41
