

'Enchanted evening' auction for Longacre House

Some enchanted volunteers: Committee members gathered at Longacre House to display some of the auction items. May Arvo (foreground) displays a carved decorative pipe. Ben Marks, Beth Grossman and Jeff Ferreri show off more artworks and Red Wings memorabilia.

Mark your calendar for Friday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m.

That's the night the Longacre House of Farmington Hills invites the community to "Some Enchanted Evening" - its annual auction/fund-raiser that will feature food, live music, as well as a chance to bid on some fine auction items.

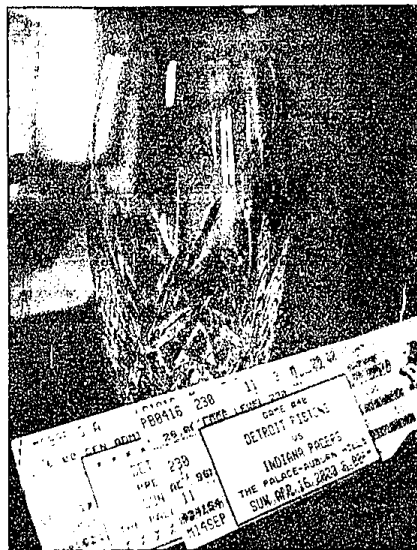

The Longacre House at 24705 Farmington Road is the area's oldest residential structure and operates as a community center. In another era, the house sheltered runaway slaves escaping from the South to Canada on the Underground Railroad.

Sample morsels from local eateries, listen to the live music of Jim Nuckolls, piano; Lauren Erickson, fute; and Miss Farmington Leslie Reinhold, a singer, as you look over the items in the silent auction (from 7:30-9 p.m.). A live auction will be conducted by Joseph Dumouchelle. That will be followed by more refreshments and a dessert table.

Tickets are $25 prepaid or $30 at the door.

For more information, call 477-8404.

Variety: The auction will have everything from (above) crystal vases to Pistons tickets. At left, jade carvings.
