Record-setter: Mercy senior Kristy Ramsey set a school record in the high jump Tuesday with a height of 5 feet, 5 inches. That's the area's best jump this year, too.

diate goals are to break 100 feet in the discus and 30 in the shot put.

"Usually, if you do a lot of track events, you tend to focus on one, but I'm trying to do all four as best I can," Ramsey said. "Coach Servais said I would do fine in the high jump. He said 'We'll put you in the others and see how you do.' So far he hasn't made any changes."

And he probably won't. Why would he, considering how well Ramsey is doing?

"I think she's just a natural athlete," Servais said. "What I've really noticed about her is you can tell her one time and she's able to do it. Whereas, with a lot of other kids, you have to tell them repeatedly, and you have to keep breaking it down for them. She's able to pick it up the first time, which is a sign of a great athlete."

Ramsey plans to attend Western Michigan University and play volleyball, but Servais thinks she has a future in track and field if she wants to pursue it.

"Coach keeps telling me 'Don't sign anything; I might be able to get something for you in track,'" Ramsey said.

"My mind and heart are set to play volleyball. I'm not counting it out completely, but I'm leaning toward volleyball."

"If she pursued this in college she could probably be a heptathlete — a seven-event person," Servais said. "I hope to get some (college coaches) looking at her."

"This is only her sixth week of track and field. That's the remarkable thing. I think she has the potential to do even better."
