Since 1954: First Presbyterian Church of Farmington was organized 46 years ago and presently serves 286 families.

First Presbyterian offers many programs

The First Presbyterian Church of Farmington was organized in 1954. It is located at 28165 Farmington Road on the northeast corner of 11 Mile in Farmington Hills.

There are 286 families in the congregation. The Rev. Dr. Sue Ellis Melrose is pastor; the Rev. David Noble is associate pastor.

Special programs offered include Logos, from October to April for children in kindergarten to high school; JOY program for adults; adult bible studies; Tuesday morning and Tuesday evening groups; Men's group; Thursday morning group; women's circles that meet at various times throughout the week; youth groups that meet weekly and participate in a mission trip each year; Stephen ministry; two adult vocal choirs; a children's choir; brass choir and a hand bell choir.

Worship services are at 8:45 a.m. and 11 a.m. with an education hour at 10 a.m. Nursery care is provided for all services. Summer worship services start on June 18 with one service at 9:30 a.m.

Vacation church school runs June 19-23 from 9:30 a.m. to noon. The church welcomes all members of the community to worship and participate in all activities.

Call Helen Thomas at 626-5244 for more information.
