

Area bowlers win Senior Olympics gold

TEN-PIN ALLY
 This year's Michigan Senior Olympics held last week in Battle Creek put bowling action in the forefront.

There are tournaments for all ages and a variety of other sports.

AL HARRISON
 Gold, silver or bronze medals qualify for the U.S. Senior Olympics next year in Baton Rouge, La.

The greatest difference between the Senior Olympics and regular Olympics is the ages of the contestants.

There are several age brackets including 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79 and 80 and over. As expected, Jarvis Woehlke, who resides in Dearborn but bowls in Livonia and Redford, easily won in the 80 and over division. There is simply nobody around his age who can match up with him.

Ed Dudek of Livonia won a gold medal in the men's 65-69, while Mary Mohacsi and Shirley Funke of Livonia, took the gold in women's doubles.

Michael teamed with Shirley's husband, Bill Funke, to take the gold in mixed doubles.

Doug Swords of Oxford won the age category in men's singles, then teamed up with Funke to win another pair of gold medals in men's doubles.

For all of the Senior Olympic bowling gold medalists, getting the permit means getting better.

First prize for the best landscaping of the year goes to Jim O'Neill of Redford, who retired from a construction career as General Motors.

Now at the age of 75, O'Neill competes in his two pet hobbies, bowling and gardening to create a "Bowlscape" in his front yard.

His friend, Ken Bashara, proprietor of Wonderland Lanes in Livonia, gave him many of his surplus bowling pins, and in his "spare time," Jim created a wonderful blend of rocks, flowers, pine and a ball as the centerpiece in one of the several groups that adorn his spacious front yard.

A special lady, his lovely wife, Jeanne, is a pinsetter in his rural Illinois hometown, then continued while serving in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

He captured a championship while bowling in California with the Navy Blue Traveling League in 1945.

O'Neill has had a lot of memories from his many years of bowling, the best was when he bowled a 300 game at Mayflower Lanes in Redford on February 23, 1998.

When you are driving around near Six Mile and Beech Daly roads, take a turn south onto Five Oaks, a few blocks down and across from the golf course.

It is well worth a look.

A special note of thanks to John Chmelko, Jr., co-owner of Easttown Printing Company on Van Dyke in Warren.

He provided the programs for the Greater Detroit Bowling Association annual awards banquet, now combined with the Detroit Women's Bowling Association.

Through no fault of theirs, a writing error appeared in the women's city tournament championship team.

One young lady was very much disappointed at the error, and John was kind enough to run off a couple more booklets with the correct name.

A very surprised and elated Cheryl Sipek of Livonia, a member of the championship team, was given the corrected program booklets with her name on it.

The GDBA/DWBA awards banquet was held last Sunday at the Warren Chateau. The menu also included the installation of officers for the coming year.

Michael Monlon takes over the presidential gavel of the GDBA and Marvin Dealey moved up to fifth place followed by James R. Lhamony, Kenneth Swan and Jerry Cwczarski.

The All-City Teams were recently recognized along with the city tournament champions.

There are too many names here for the space, but Chris Klicinski of Westland is the single actual champion with 822 in the city tournament and also placed at the top of the All-City second team.

Doug Evans, of Southgate led the men's senior All-City squad with Alfred Stroud of Southfield second and Ken Kosciak of Canton third in the group.

These selections are based on points which are amassed by league averages, tournament placings and honor scores.

Novella White of Detroit was named "Queen" with a 218 combined average. Meanwhile, Sandra Schultz (216.5) and Redford's Erica Mickowski (216.25) were named as the "Queens Court."

Angela Wilt of Westland was number two on the All-City team behind No. 1, Mickowski.

Tina Barber-Judy of Westland was the remaining Observerland honoree in the fourth spot on the second team behind No. 1, Mickowski.

Edna Gilbert was honored as Secretary of the Year, and special awards went to George Prybyla and Farmington Hills premier proprietor, Mark Volght (with a little help from wife Diane).

The wonderful plaques and trophies were the result of a super job by George Zainon of DB&T Awards and Graphics.

These bowlers work hard to perfect their game in order to be good enough for the awards.

It doesn't happen by luck or accident; just a lot of hard work.
