

In my family, learning is everything.
Books are not expensive. They're free. Our children will grow up knowing this. A parent's education is one of the most important things we can give them. And we will, with the help of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Through the Power of Savings Plan, we'll make saving easy with every purchase. And it's free! All you have to do is sign up for our children.

U.S. Savings Bonds helped my parents put me through college. And next year, it's Michelle's turn. Sure, Savings Bonds have important to our past, but they'll be even more important to our future. That's what makes our investment so valuable.

Ask your employer or banker about saving with U.S. Savings Bonds. For all the right reasons.

the forum is "intended to provide information on the adolescent sleep time research and the experience of school districts that have made the change."

The forum, which will include testimony from a pediatrician from the University of Michigan Hospital, is sponsored by these school districts: Clarenceville, Farmington, Huron Valley, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Plymouth-Canton, Walled Lake and West Bloomfield.

If start time changes are made, Maxfield said, high school students might begin their day at 8:35 a.m., instead of 7:30 a.m.

Minnesota high schools moved their starting time back an hour, he said.

"There's the argument, 'What does it do to afternoon sports?'" Maxfield said, adding the committee will explore those implications.

"We would be affected mainly with practices," said Denise Albrecht, a booster parent with the Farmington High School Falcon Society. "Baseball is immediately after school."

Albrecht said the committee will explore those implications.

"There's the argument, 'What does it do to afternoon sports?'" Maxfield said, adding the committee will explore those implications.

"It's helpful to know others are looking at this," Maxfield agreed.

Chrzanski said there's a variety of issues to be considered, including: a tight budget, fiscal responsibility, student employment after school, costs to implement transportation changes, athletic schedules and day care issues.

"We need to look at the research which has been generated," Chrzanski said. "We have to be sensitive to as many people's needs as possible."

Subcommittees are inevitable, he said, because "the topic is so broad."

Not all kids like to sleep in.

"We have a lot of 4.0s (grade point averages) who are doing well academically with a 7:30 a.m. start time," Chrzanski said. "Will we have to hold athletic practices in the morning? That would be defeating the purpose."

Phil Neuman, who ran unsuccessfully for school board in June, has accepted a committee position. He said the later start time was an issue he heard while campaigning door-to-door and he mentioned it during his campaign. "This is one of the things I think we should be exploring more," Neuman said.
