POLICE CALLS

The following reports were recently filed with the Farmington Hills Police Department:

RAMPAGE THWARTED

A man pushed or punched five people Nov. 23 in businesses along Grand River in southeast Farmington Hills, before his capture by police.

Police were called at 2:05 p.m. to the West River Plaza, after witnesses said a man, 6 feet 2 inches and 180 pounds, had either pushed or punched five patrons at FuncoLand, the 99 Cents store and Michigan National Bank.

According to the report filed with police, the man continued south on Grand River punching out window panes of vacant buildings with his fist.

The man was tackled by a store security guard and got a bloody nose, then escaped and ran into the Sitar Restaurant where he grabbed a bottle of alcohol and tried to leave. Police arrested the man on charges of assault and battery.

TOOLS TAKEN

Power tools including a Dewald compound miter saw and a compressor were reported stolen Nov. 21 from a locked construction trailer parked near a garage on Eldred Street.

According to a report filed with

Farmington Hills police, a lock was cut to allow thieves in the trailer. There was no physical evidence at the scene, the report continued.

CELL PHONE GONE

Hills police got a report Nov. 22 that a Motorola cell phone and cord were taken from a Jeep Grand Cherokee parked at the Farmington Medical Arts building, 23800 Orchard Lake, after a thief smashed a window to get inside.

WINDOWS SMASHED

Hills police were told Nov. 22 that the driver's side window to a 1993 Ford Ranger parked on Greythorne Trail was smashed by a blunt object.

Neighbors earlier heard two loud "bangs," possibly the sound of the window being struck, according to the police report. Nothing was reported missing from inside the car.

A window to a 1994 Ford Thunderbird parked at Briarwyke and Appleton Drives was also reported smashed Nov. 23. Nothing was reported taken from the car. The owner estimated the damage at $300, according to the Hills police incident report.

CABLE CONNECTION

What to do when the cable's out

They say you never really appreciate something till it's gone. And we certainly experienced that last week when cable was cut in a large portion of Farmington and Farmington Hills.

Phones rang off the hook. But that didn't bring the cable up any faster. Now that Time Warner brings us cable on fiber optic lines, the repair can often be longer and more expensive.

Last Monday, an independent contractor accidentally cut the lines at 12 Mile and Halsted. That eliminated cable for all customers North of Grand River and East of Halsted. Time Warner's offices are right around the corner, and they had crews on the scene right away. General Manager Bob McCann tells us his crews were working around the clock, but almost 150 fibers were cut, and that took time to repair. Cable was up the following afternoon.

Meanwhile, frustrated cable subscribers were getting a busy signal when they tried to call Time Warner for a repair. McCann says that's because everyone was calling in at the same time.

So, here's what you should do when there's a cable outage:

1) Call Time Warner at (248) 553-7300 or (734) 422-2810. If the line is busy or goes unanswered, it's likely that others are also calling and they are aware of the problem. But try again later, to be certain.

2) If you want to confirm that Time Warner knows about the problem, call the repair line at (248) 553-7303. You'll get an automated attendant. But if you keep pushing 1, you'll eventually get to a recording of current cable problems.

3) Be sure to request a refund for the time you were without cable. Then check your cable bill, to make sure you received the refund. If you can't get through immediately, don't forget to call later to request that refund.

Normally, Time Warner does not give automatic refunds since they say they can't pinpoint exactly which customers were without service with any given outage. However, since they confirmed the location on this outage, SWOCC (the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission) requested refunds for this 24-hour period (November 12 and 13) to all customers north of Grand River and East of Halsted.

Check your next bill. If you didn't get the refund, call Time Warner.

Caren Collins is the Executive Director of the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission. The next SWOCC meeting is at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 27, at Farmington Hills City Hall. The next CAC meeting is at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 11, at SWOCC.
