Beauty All Around Us

Isn't it funny how some people can see beauty everywhere? They find it in the people around them, in the skies above, and anywhere and everywhere they turn their gaze. Then there are others who seemingly refuse to see beauty anywhere, whether in the splendor of nature or in the artistic creations of humankind. Most of us fall somewhere between these two extremes, catching occasional glimpses of beauty in nature and in work of art. Why is this the case, that some are able to see it and others not? Perhaps it is because they have cultivated a frame of mind that is sensitive to beauty, because beauty is important to them. As Ralph Waldo Emerson put it, "Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us or we will find it not." The raging oceans, the starry heavens and all of nature are things of sublime beauty, but we must cultivate our hearts and our minds to appreciate them. Each day we should try to see the beauty and goodness in all of God's creation.

To the pure all things are pure, but to the corrupt and unbelieving nothing is pure; their very minds and consciences are corrupted.
R.S.V. Titus 1:15
