The teachers and pupils of the primary and intermediate rooms held their annual picnic Wednesday on John Powers' flats. About 85 children enjoyed the swing, teeter-totter and other amusements so kindly furnished by Mr. Powers and Mr. Shaw.

For the benefit of those who contemplate building we will say that the insurance companies discriminate against cement chimneys either of brick or block construction and it is therefore not wise to use that material for chimneys.

Three young men from Farmington graduated from the Detroit Central High school this week. Howard and Harley Warner and Edgar Pierce. They all passed with honors and, in fact, have always been among the foremost in each and every department, not excepting athletics in which they all excelled as well as in their studies.

In order to vote at the primaries on August 27 electors must be enrolled and this must be done before June 27. Those not already enrolled can do so before that date by presenting to the township clerk a written request for enrollment together with an affidavit stating that he is a qualified elector of his township and that it is bona fide intention to affiliate with the political party with which he asks to be enrolled.

The Methodist ministers of Detroit district played the Baptists a game of ball on Belle Isle last Saturday afternoon. Rev. Ralph Pierce of Northville caught for the Methodists and Rev. Geo. Gullen played third base. The score was 32 to 2 in favor of the Methodists.

Quite a crowd of fans gathered on the island to see the game, and among them was Hughie Jennings of the Tigers.

Mrs. E. C. McKinney arrived here Saturday from Colton, California, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Elven Adams, who passed away Monday at the home of her son, Clyde H. Adams.

The funeral was held from the house Thursday afternoon and interment was made in Clarenceville cemetery. Besides the son and daughter and one sister, she leaves a host of friends.

Mr. Gildemeister keeps his plant up to date and abreast of the modern ideas and plans at all times and this innovation is in pursuance of that custom.

Time to do a Little Boosting Several of the leading business men are itching to see Farmington take a spurt and grow a little faster. They realize that now is the time to bid for population. That other towns about Detroit are making a concerted effort to secure those who are looking for village homes and that the time is ripe for an effort to be made for Farmington. Organization is everything. If the business men of this town would spunk up, get together and pull together for a little time, no one would be more surprised than themselves at the result. No better time will ever present itself than the present to accomplish something for Farmington. Ginger up, gentlemen, and go after something.

In Memoriam Ellen, wife of the deceased Asa Adams, entered into rest on Monday, June the 17th, at the age of 75 years, 10 months and 17 days. Only a few short weeks ago she returned to her old home in Farmington to visit friends and loved ones. We welcomed her, so pure and gentle, whose life, though in its "autumn time" so suddenly cut down and withered that our eyes are blinded with tears but still we say "Thy will be done." May time with her magic wand bring comfort and consolation. For in that beautiful "Acre of God" lies her companion and now dear mother thou art lying by his side, waiting with him to welcome us as we come to you one by one. "Sleep on fair sleeper and sweet be thy repose."

"That word farewell I'll ne'er forget, Deep in my heart I hold it yet; What, though so sad 'tis sweet to me, As memory brings me thoughts of thee.

I stand again upon that shore Where late you spoke it o'er and o'er; Yes, in my heart 'twill ever dwell A lasting, loving, fond farewell." E. D.

I have a customer who writes as follows: "Please find me a small farm of light soil near the car line from Farmington to Redford." Who can supply his wants.—C. R. Ramsey.

Lapham Must Stay in the County

Floyd Lapham was in town last Friday, enroute to his home in Novi township. Lapham, who has been held at the county jail for several months on a capias because he did not pay a judgment secured against him by Avery Garfield, gave bonds for $2,500, with H. Frank Stone of Rochester and Attorney W. T. Hosmer of Romeo as sureties, that he would not leave the jail limits. The jail limits comprise the entire county of Oakland and Lapham will be unable to go to Northville, in Wayne county, which is one of the nearest towns. Elmer Bromley, held at the jail for over a year, is hoping that such good fortune will come to him.

Presidents' Day

The 13th annual Presidents' Day of the L. L. C. was celebrated June 5 at the home of Mrs. Ella Irish. Everything conspired to make the day a pleasant one, even the weather clerk sending a very fair sample of not altogether meritorious line of goods offered up to the spring trade. Thirty ladies were present and enjoyed to the full the mental and physical feast prepared for them by the entertainment and banquet committees.

The meeting was opened by the prayer of the State Federation of Women's Clubs read by Mrs. Emma Wilber. Mrs. Agnes Chamberlin, the retiring president, in a few well chosen words, thanked the club for its courtesy and support given her during her two years incumbency of the office and presented to Mrs. Ella Irish the gavel and book of parliamentary law. Then followed informal talks by each of the club's former presidents, interspersed with piano and vocal music. Mrs. Wilber and Mrs. Dobany furnishing the former, while solos were sung by Mrs. Hogle and Miss Kennedy and a duet by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Grace. After this we were asked to show how little we knew regarding the magazine publications of the day.

When brain fog was apparent we were invited to the lawn to inspect the "art gallery" which consisted of pictures of club members taken at more or less remote periods. That none of the club had grown old was attested by the fact that there was very little difficulty in recognizing the originals of the pictures. In this "literature and art" contest Mrs. T. H. McGee bore off the honors and was rewarded by a copy of Lippincott's, while the lamp of enlightenment was presented to Mrs. H. Schroeder as a consolation prize.

The ladies were then invited to the dining room and were seated at two long tables, decorated with Japan's own flower, the purple iris, where a most delicious menu was served. The favors at each cover were a carnation, the club flower, and a tiny Japanese fan. This meeting will go down in the club history as one of the most delightful of its many red letter days.

The thanks of the club are due to the committee who arranged and so successfully carried out the plans for the afternoon. The club will reconvene in October.

RECALL IN MATRIMONY.

"What's the matter, Jorrocks? You look as blue as indigo," said Whibley, sympathetically. "I am blue," sighed Jorrocks.
