Springtime is clean-up time at home

Spring is here and it is an excellent time to take a fresh look at what you have and what you want in your home. Getting organized and doing some spring-cleaning can bring a sense of renewal into your home, so here are seven tips to help you start the season off right:

■ Make a checklist. Write a list of all the springtime jobs that you only do once or twice a year. Type it on your computer and save it for years to come, instead of writing a new list every year. Some examples could include; check the smoke detectors; move and clean under heavy appliances and furniture, shampoo carpet, rugs and upholstery; wash blinds and shades.

■ If you have a lot you want to do, give yourself an entire week to clean. Start on a Saturday and do one task per day: Sorting and de-cluttering, dusting and polishing, vacuuming and sweeping, washing and scrubbing, organizing and rearranging, laundry and ironing, decorating.

■ Get all of your tools together. Put all of your cleaning supplies in a bucket or caddy, and carry it with you from room to room so you don't have to keep running back and forth to get what you need.

■ Clear the clutter. Be ruthless when sorting through your stuff. If you don't love it or don't use it, it's clutter. Remember, the less you have, the less you have to dust or clean and the easier it will be to find something when you need it.

■ Donate or sell the things you do not use or want. As you are getting rid of your clutter, set aside the items that are still in good condition. Put them in bags or boxes and decide whether you would rather donate them or sell them. You could drop them off at your favorite charity, or perhaps they will save you a trip and pick up your donations for you. If you would rather sell them, set a date to have a garage sale.

■ Enjoy the nice weather as you are working. If you are cleaning inside, open the windows to let the fresh air and sunshine in. Don't forget about outside organizing and yard work too. Put all of your gardening supplies together. Replace old and broken tools.

■ Involve your family. If your children are old enough, give them something to do, such as cleaning their bedroom or play area. Divide the to-do list with your spouse and get chores done in half the time. Don't forget to do something fun or relaxing afterwards to reward yourself.
