POINTERS FOR MOTORISTS

Danger of Leaving Small Articles in Envelopes

In fitting an inner tube care should be taken that nothing remains in the envelope. Tire men not infrequently suffer criticism for supplying inferior tubes when the fact is that it is the motorist who is at fault. The Michelin Tire expert says that frequently owners leave dust caps, washers and other articles inside an envelope and then complain when the inner tube punctures from "no apparent cause" after a few miles travelling. Keep dust caps and other parts removed for tire fitting on a bit of waste on the step or on the seat of the car or in some other place where they can be found when wanted and where they cannot get inside the tire by any possible chance.

Use does not injure tires. Like the human family it is idleness that destroys them. An inner tube hanging in a garage all winter will be ruined by spring. Its companion tube which is working daily remains flexible, elastic and fresh.

It is the same with an envelope or casing. A tire neglected on the roof of a limousine exposed to the sun is baked and ruined, but the envelope on the car has nothing to fear from the same sun rays that destroyed its idle neighbor.

Notice of Annual School Meeting

The annual meeting of School District No. 5 of the Township of Farmington for election of school district officers and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it will be held at the school house on Monday evening the 8th day of July, 1912, at 7 o'clock p. m.

Dated this 29th day of June, 1912. JOHN POWER, Director.

Navy Exhibit

The United States navy department is preparing an exhibit for the Michigan State Fair of Sept. 16th to 21st inclusive and this novel exhibit will be one of the great features of the fair. The directors have just been notified of the fact and while a few of the details could be secured, all are not ready for publication. That there will be several exhibits of working models of the great battleships is certain. The Florida, Oregon and the old Maine will be shown as will also the torpedo boats, the Decatur, the Holland and probably several others. The cruiser Salem will be a part of this exhibit.

An electrical feature will add interest to the exhibit. There will be shown the latest in wireless apparatus and many of the electrical devices now in use in the navy will be shown.

One complete outfit from the Artificer's school and several sections of boats, easel blocks in assorted varieties, a blacksmith's outfit and articles used for instruction in the school will be shown.

Field guns and caissons, forgings and castings and samples of smooth bore guns of large and small caliber and mounted on carriages will take up much of the room.

The machinist's school exhibit be complete, but all particulars regarding this portion of the big display could not be learned.

Lieut. H. E. S. Wallace will have entire supervision of the big exhibit, which will be one of the most interesting of the State Fair of 1912—a fair which will eclipse any other ever held and lend all other state fairs of the United States.
