MS doesn't have me."

Morilyn Joy is just as grateful but for a different reason. The Birmingham jeweler exhibits year round at art fairs from West Bloomfield to Charlevoix and Florida. She'll bring necklaces, anklets and earrings made with sterling silver and natural gemetones. This is her fourth year at Art in the Park.

"I feel very lucky (to be doing his). It's a lot of fun," said Joy. "I used to own Lotus Import Co. in Royal Oak. It was in the late 80s that I began doing jewelry there. I'm drawn to beads and other cultures. I travel to Asia in winter to find benda from Ball, India and Thailand."

Although Joy no longer owns Lotus Import Co. her work is still on display there, and at Dancing Eye Gallery in Northville.

of-a-kind jackets and purses at about 20 shows a year including Art on the Lake in Northfield Hills in Troy Sunday, Aug. 26. Sho's been in Art in the Park for the last eight years.

"I call them my Urban Grunge, 'said Metler, a West Bloomfield artist who used trun a business er..ating and selling stuffed boars." I recycle sweaters for jackets and sew on lots of appliqué. The purses I use telephone cords for handles. I call them my conversation pieces.

"I also make jackets out of bath towels, shower curtains and table cloths to wear for fall and spring but people wear them through the winter because they're warm. People say they're unique and one of a kind. I think, they think they're fun and jackets made out of bath towels are very comfortable and cozy. Art fair goers love Nina Cambron's fused glass works and ceramic tiles because they're fun. In addition to Art in the Park, they can be found at Dancing

In any case $5,000 can be a good value. It's only $4,000 if they have their own artist, or they can go in with other businesses. The brass at Chevrolet is still deciding on their design. At first they thought to chrome the bear and make it the world's largest hood ornament but have gone back to the drawing board and might tei tin with the Woodward Dream Cruise.

Stagecrafters has signed up to put a pirate bear adjacent to the theater to announce the first production of its 2002-2003 season. Firates of Penzance opening. Sept. 13 and continuing to Oct. 6. July 19-28.

The Post Bar is sponsoring a Red Wings bear while the Detroit Pistons and Detroit

Shock are teaming up. The design for Cardelli, Hebert and Lanfenr, a Royal Oak law firm, will feature the scales of justice. Oak Park artist Shawn Bible begins painting the 200's "Impostor" bear, fiberglass of course, to look like a zebra the week of July 8. Among others participating in Polar Palooza are Pulte Homes, Schostak Bros, Builda-Bear Workshop at Twelve Oaks and Somerset malls, Fox 2, and Custom Mason Contractors. "It's a community effort, said McGannon. "AAA is providing 50,000 bear finder maps." Scott Carter's just grateful so many people are coming together to help polar bears. As the Detroit Zoo's curator of mammals, he's been delighted by the response to the seven polar bears in the Aretic Ring of Life, the zoo's 4.2 acre exhibit which opened in October. Now Polar Palooza is uniting artists and businesses to bring attention to the plight of the polar bears and not a minute toe soon. Visitors can learn more about the Sikita Ovsyanikov by watching flootage about him on the screen in the Exploration Station.

"Global warming is effecting them and accumulated environmental waste or pollution," and Carter. "Polar bears are at the end stage of the food chain and we're seeing effects of that. The shortening season for hunting on the ice because of rising temperatures appears progressive. It's affecting them — the time they are on the ice.

"I'm excited about Polar Paloza because it's about polar bears. It creates an awareness. It's all about bringing people here. Polar bears are one of the coolest things to us. Polar Paloza is fun and gets visitors to Detroit."

A plaque mounted next to each of the fiberglass bears acknowledging the aponser will go a long way to creating goodwill in addition to helping the polar bears and artists.

To sponsor a bear call Eventures Unlimited at (248) 543-363.
