Go With God

Life is a journey. One does not arrive here a fully developed human being, and the task of becoming fully human is often compared to a long and sometimes perilous — though hopefully joyful and interesting — journey. But it is a journey where, for the most part, we don't know where we are going to end up, or in many cases, where we are likely to pass or even what we should pack for the journey. My father was always in the habit of packing a tool kit when we were preparing for a family vacation. It was a tool kit to deal with the contingencies of travel, and particularly with the possibility of automotive breakdowns. In the same way, we should give some thought to what kind of "tool kit" we should carry with us on our journey of life. What virtues and values should we carry with us? What kind of education should we pursue, and what are the lessons of faith to carry with us? Whatever else we take on our journey through life, we should always take God with us as a traveling companion and guardian of our lives. As our Spanish-speaking friends say before a journey, "Vaya con Dios," or "Go with God."

"There is great gain in godliness with contentment; for we brought nothing into this world, and we cannot take anything out of the world; R.S.V. 1 Timothy 6:6-7"
