Falcons defeat Wolves in OAA soccer CHAMPS FROM PAGE DI

Matt O'Brien and Matt Konopinski scored goals for Farmington, which beat Clarkston in an Oakland Clarkston in an Oakland Activitics Association Division I contest Tuesday, 2-0. O'Brien gave the host Falcons (5-4, 11-4) a one-goal lead at halftime with an assist from Matto Okopay in the 20th minute. Eric Gaughan's throw-in midkay through the second half fed to the goal by Konopinski. The Falcons out-shot the Wolves, 14-3.

Farmington fired several shots in a row at the North goal; a defender headed the boll away, and McDonlel put the rebound into the net. "The last 10 minutes is when we really picked it up and start-ed pressuring more," Juncaj said. "For the first 70 minutes, there wasn't really much action within the two Iss. It was mainly in the middleid. "In the last 10, we were press-ing for a goal and had a few really good chances. Their goalie (Alex Lubyansky) made some great saves, and we finally got a goal from Chris McDoniel". Otherwise, Juncaj said he thought. I't was a long game for the most part. It was a side for though the two is goal for North did. For the most part, it was a better game for them. Besides being a close, evenly-matched game, it was also an uncharacteristically clean, non-confrontational context, according to North coach. Ron confrontational contest, according to North coach Ron according to North coaca Avan Meteyer. "As close and tight as it was, both teams wanted to avoid a nasty foul that would have put either team on the board with a penalty kick," he said. "The officials were right on top of the game from the begin-ting. The yealled it tight from the start. It was pretty fairly dame."

In it may be that earne around. The visibility of the second and them trying to scramble and turn it around in the sec-ond haff. Labyanaby alayed an excel-lent game for the Raiders, Meteyer added. He made we saves to Farmington goalie Andrew Martin's three. Labyanaby defended well against the long, high iddes by Farmington's Kacey Lopata. "Alex was able to get up and grab the ball, but they were try-ing to pat one behind him," Meteyer said. "They had three, four broakways in the second half, and Alex came out to stone them. It is was cutting. stone them. He was cutting down the angles; he did every-thing. He had a marvelous

We didn't press for goals. We didn't really attack the 18 the way we usually do," Juncaj said. "If it wasn't for the last 10 min-utes, we wouldn't have gotten a goal

The end of the second attitude, however, - T was surprised because the kids were so positive (after the game Saturday), he said. They knew they had played a good game and had taken Farmington to the wall. It was almost as if they had tied or won the game. - Even though we went 0-3-1, they seem to feel they've turned it around. We're still trying to find a scoring solution with the absence of (injured) Greg Pekarsky. He should be back Friday to practice and able to play Saturday. - There's a chance Farmington and North could meet again in the district tournament later this month since both teams are in Division I for post-sea-son play.

raised his hands, thinking it went in the net," Meteyer said. "If it had gone in, that would have turned the whole game thing. He had a marvelous game. "In the end, (the Falcons) got a good goal. It was a clean shot and the young man was able to place it. It wasn't an overpow-ering shot, he just placed the ball well." The Falcons controlled the play in the midfield, according to Juncaj, but the problem was they mrely ventured beyond that point. He added the Raiders defended well. "We didn't press for goals. We
