RAIDERS

FROM PAGE CI standing individual times, they were still good enough. It got down to places more so than times and how tough are people going to hang in there.

North, which started the meet by having its top medley relay team disqualified, trailed on the scoreboard until the completion of the 200 freestyle relay.

The Raiders were down 16 points after the butterfly, but points after the butterfly, but they battled back and staged a 22-point turnaround over the course of the final six events. The score was tied at 70 after the second relay and again following the breast-again following the breast-stroke.

North took first and third in the 400 freestyle relay and outscored the Knights in that event, 10-4, to win the meet.

Our kids did a great job.

Duthie said. I thought they showed a lot of composure.
They just never gave up.
The Raiders had their share of event winners, but Duthie wanted to make sure other contributors who scored key points in such a close meet received their due.
They included Drew Warnick, who was fifth in the 200 freestyle and fourth in the backstroke. Brad Smith, who was fourth in the IM and was fourth in the IM and breaststroke; Ben Iwrey, who was fifth in the breaststroke;

and Ryan Podges, who was fourth in the 500 freestyle. "First places are obviously important, but it was our tone it without those kids swimming hard."

Jason Bank won the IM and 500 freestyle, and anchored North victories in both freestyle relays.
North's only other individual winner was Mohamad Bachrouche in the 100 freestyle.
Licas DiGia, Thomas Nauphton and Alejandro Valierra preceded Bank in the 200 freestyle relay, and Jeff Mataya, Bachrouche and Keith Jones did likewise in the 400.

Brighton stronger than CC There were some outstand-ing performances by Redford-Detroit Catholic Central Detroit Catholic Central Thursday against Brighton. But the Bulldors proved even better as they stopped the Shamrocks cold, 118–68. "They've always been at this level, with one or two strong kids and some excellent depth swimmers," CC coach Jeff Baker said. 'But other teams have the depth that we don't" Rob Cyrek figured in four of CC's five wins, taking the 100-
