Frantz struck out the next two, but a walk loaded the bases. Frantz got out of the jam when No. 9 hitter Jessie Wise hit a lineout to Schneider at first base.
Lakes had two baserunners in the third-one was erased and the other stranded—but none after that as Frantz retired the last 19 in a row. "At that point, Dana took over, Falvo said, "It's the first time Dana has thrown her game. She was popping the ball pretty well, and her rise pitch was working well. "She was so juiced up she couldn't get the fastball into the strike zone. We told her to bring the ball down and let the defense take over. "In the sixth inning, I remidded her, They're coming into their heavy hitters; do your thing—and she did." Schneider and teammate Kali Blanchard had two hits apiece. Pettit allowed als hits over six innings; she struck out four and walked one. "We came out a little bit nervous," Boyd said, "I'll give the Marlias) one run, but we gave them two.
