

The old-fashioned man thought no danger of a divorce lawyer getting rich off a girl whose wedding outfit contains six kitchen aprons.

AN EFFICIENT BURIAL SERVICE SYMPATHETICALLY RENDERED

A service rendered to lighten the burden of those bereaved, because of the dignified and competent direction of all details. Ours are of impressiveness, modern methods, equipment and facilities.

CLOTHES RIFLED WHILE THEY ENJOY A SWIM

While a group of young people from Birmingham were in swimming at Twin Beach on Tuesday evening, a thief or thieves broke into the cottage in which they had changed their clothes and stole four watches, several pocket books, drivers licenses and about $25 in money.

The cottage, in charge of L. G. Appleford was not locked but the door was closed. A light was left burning and a car was parked in front of the cottage. Deputies Coe and Schmidt are investigating the theft.

Five in Front Seat!
Rudolph Anderson was arrested by the deputies on Saturday charged with reckless driving. He was driving without lights and four other persons besides himself occupied the front seat. The rest of the car was too filled with people to make it possible for the deputies to count them all.

The officers arrested Mike Leisen and Murray Schuehter of Pontiac and William McMann of Detroit and all paid fines of $10 for being drunk.

MAPS ARE ISSUED

Colored maps of Roscommon County showing the different soils, the farm development, and the nature of the forest growth along with various physical features such as streams, roads, dwellings are the latest additions to the series published by the land economic survey, according to L. R. Schegmann of the Conservation Department.

Similar colored maps in the series are now ready for Antrim and Ogemaw Counties. White colored preliminary maps of Charlevoix, Alpena, Menominee, Chippewa, Kalkaska, and Crawford Counties can be had.

These maps will be mailed to any address for the cost of printing. The complete price list can be had by writing to the conservation department.

My Bank Can Set You Straight On That

ONE of the big points in favor of an account here is the ability of officers and staff to look at things from the depositor's viewpoint. Whether it is a personal account, or an account of a business establishment, our keen interest and policy of helping the depositor are the same.

You will find this banking service here is designed to fit the need of the present—and is backed by strength, broad vision and experience.

Let's talk over these qualities of banking from the standpoint of your needs.
