able to Ivan Cox, treasurer, before the end of each semester. Sophomores The treasurer's report from this class showed a total of $32 in the bank. The dues for this year are behind. Freshmen The Freshmen voted that 50 cents should be the standard for their class dues.

ATHLETICS
Ypsilanti vs. Farmington In spite of the weather a large crowd turned out to cheer the team Friday. A continuous drizzle made it very unpleasant for the spectators, band members and players. The Farmington boys didn't receive much satisfaction out of playing in the field, and sliding about on the wet field, to win by the score result 2 to 0.

STANDARD RINGS
The subject of a standard ring for all the coming graduates, of the Farmington High School, was discussed at all class meetings last Friday. In each meeting the subject was discussed, and from each class one boy and one girl were chosen as a committee to represent their respective classes in the selecting of the ring.

Although the boys declared it an easy game and authorities stated that Farmington outplayed the purple-jerseyed Radcliffers the blue and white could score nothing until the last moment when the team was about 2 yards from the goal line on their fourth down. The ball went to Ypsilanti; they tried a punt but Jyleen's broad form blocked the piggian. About five of Ypsi's men jumped for the ball but Farmington's men tackled and brought the ball-carrier down on the other side of the goal line for a safety.

From the various classes, the following representatives were chosen:
Seniors, Glenn Werner and Helen Westfall.
Juniors, Ivan Cox and Thelma Gashomores, Lewis Maas and Beulah Gullen.
Freshmen, Wayne Wixom and Ada Leonard.

LIBRARY CORNER
Found tucked away in a remote corner of the library was the book "The Master" by the late Robert Herrick, one of England's great poets and writers.

STUDENT COUNCIL
Ninety-five dollars and twenty-five cents has been paid to the Student Council for athletic dues from the junior high, high school, and faculty.

THIS WEEK A YEAR AGO
The Student Council began one of their money-making schemes, when they had blue and white pencils made with "Farmington High School" engraved on them. They were and are sold in a pencil machine in the hall for 15 cents.

GIRLS' LEAGUE
At the Girls' League meeting held Thursday, October 10, the four girls that made the trip to Cranbrook to the older Boys' and Girls' conference, September 7, told of their experience.

COVERS LONGEST PAPER
The world's longest newspaper route is in Yellowstone Park. It is 160 miles long and absorbs between 600 and 800 pounds of newspapers daily between June and September.

CLASS NOTES
Seniors The Seniors have received their first small order of Christmas cards, which they will start selling very soon.

PERSONALS
Mr. Hall went to his home in Lake City, Mich., over the weekend with Lavern Turner as his guest. Lavern said, "Gee, I had a swell time!"

MISS GREEN'S NIEPHEW
Miss Winnifred Thomas spent Saturday in Detroit shopping.

Spoiling the Child

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor: I have received a letter from a mother who signs herself "Worried Mother" that wants information as to how to handle her 4 kids that seem to be kind of a wild pair and in behalf of other parents that maybe in the same pickle, it looks like I should write to print her letter to me and my reply to some as follows:

She writes, in a kind of illiterate way: "Dear Sir: I been informed by the authorities that you have 4 children that is probably the best behaved children this side of the reform act. Well, Mr. I haven't got only 1/2 as many children, 1 of them a 4 yrs. old and the other a girl, 1 and 1/2 yrs. old and I can't do anything with either 1 of them."

For last in the first place, the little girl won't sleep nights and cry a whole lot and also lumps up more milk than I can feed her. In regards to the boy, he won't mind anything we tell him and keeps running away from home and when the neighbors' children comes over to play with him, it always winds up in a fight and he always gets the worst of it as he hasn't got no nerve, if you will pardon the slang. I enclose a plain envelope with no writing on it for reply and hope you won't fail to reply.

And then she signs her name and address which is none of our readers business. My reply follows: "Mrs. Agnes Simpson, 429 Halfway Street, Crestline, Ohio. Dear old girl: You can bet I won't fail to reply to your overtures as I always make it a point to answer such notes from the girls of the fair sex. I presume your note was in code, but I will reply to it on the up and up and my motto is safety first and then they can't no-body have a coustache."

You been well informed about the size of my family and you couldn't of come to a better man to get the desired information. Amongst my 4 children I had about the same kind of a single child having with you, 2, but I presume you have to give the boy the unique name of Junior and probably the little girl is called Lil.

Well, we will take up Junior. 1 of my sons about the same age had a habit of running away from home all hrs. of the day and finally along came the good old summer time and I told him he could go bare (naked) then I wrote on the side of his pants a 1/2 mile in both directions with licks turned bottom side up but the little devil crossed me by going through the fields and the neighbors back yds. So I day I got him out in the wood shed and proceeded like I was splitting kindling wood and by accident the heel of my latched come down on 3 toes of his 1st foot foremost and the operation was successful. Him and me both agreed it was an accident so to say. The way it is now, his nurse who is 79 yrs. old and built in proportion, can roll after him and catch him before he gets out of the yd.

As for Junior not minding anything you say, I have a kid that was the same way until I got him a whipping post which can be bought at a reduction in any first class post office, and after about 3 sessions he began to cry a session, one day after I gave him the works, a couple of our friends drove by in their tractor and, they seen him and stopped and said: "Hello, Stupid, are you all well?"

No, thank you. Was his reply. I am all well.

As for Junior being afraid to fight, the thing is to match him up with Maloney and let him get some courage.

New in respects to Lil. I haven't no gals, but the same treatment ought to be good to both brands. One of my kids insisted on 5 bottles of milk a day and wouldn't take no less till I conceived the idea of cutting some milk in 3 of the bottles and when I wouldn't touch none but the other 2 we made a daily savings of 50 per cent on milk alone. And when this bird wouldn't sleep at night I would first kick him sleep with a punch in the eye or sprinkle a little chloroform on his pillow and the first thing you know you couldn't hardly wake him up.

I also had a kid that cried a whole lot and for no reason except that he had the colic or something or was getting tired, which is a waste of time in the first place because they lose their first teeth about 6 months and get a new string. Well, when he cried I said "I wouldn't stand it no more, I want such a sound a woman hit, beaten and shot out his teeth."

Children is a great comfort when they are rowdies up right and not get too fresh and it is all in the handling. I hope I have helped you out, dearie, and if you ever hit this old town of New York City, wish you could call me up to give you a ring as they say only sure be not to call up the house as the phone isn't in very good shape and pretty near nobody is liable to answer and not understanding you, but give me a ring at the office and when ever information I can give you, why I am at your beckon call.
