Edison Window Exhibitors To Be Club Guests

Merchants Invited To Exchange Luncheon; All Given Honorable Mention

In recognition of their efforts in preparing window displays for "light's golden jubilee" all Farmington merchants who had exhibits are to be guests of the Farmington Exchange Club at its luncheon meeting next Wednesday noon. The club voted unanimously to thus honor the business people, because of the unusual interest manifested.

After several hours of uncertainty, because of the uniform excellence of the windows, the judges arrived at a decision Saturday evening, but only by dividing the award. Because of the great variety of displays, and the fact that some went back to the oil-lamp days while others emphasized modern lighting, the judges were forced to ask for guidance as to what might be termed the "best" window. The award of $10 was divided, first for historical effect going to the E. C. Grace store, and first for modern displays being that of Henry Pauline.

All the others received honorable mention. That of F. L. Cook and Co. was named as next to the two leaders, with very little choice between the three. Others were named in the following order:

Central Market, A. & P. Store, N. J. Eisenlohr and Son, Consumers Power Co., Farmington Bakery, M. B. Pierce, Bulck, Ford and Oakland-Pontiac, J. J. Plunton and Loomis, A. G. Wallbank, Farmington Hardware Co., Lee Hardware Co., Sugar Bowl.

The awards will be presented at the luncheon, next Wednesday.

DETROIT'S BEST 'A' TEAM WILL PLAY WEST POINT PARK

Champions Of City Federation Scheduled Sunday To Conclude Season

Detroit's best amateur baseball team of 1929, and one of the best in the entire country, will come to West Point Park next Sunday, October 27 to play the West Point Park team which last Sunday won its seventh straight game. The contest will conclude the most successful season West Point Park has ever had.

West Point Street Merchants, the team to play at West Point Park, are champions of the Detroit Federation, and were runners-up in the national tournament held at West Baden, Ind. They are strong in every position, and are probably the best team West Point Park has ever faced.

The score of last Sunday's game was 11 to 5, West Point Park knocking the Schmidt-Nash star pitcher from the box. It was the sixth game of the last seven in which the starting pitcher has failed to finish the game against West Point Park. Goers and Shields divided the pitching burden for the winners.

At the game last Sunday, West Point Park received the cup awarded by Sallan Jewellers for the winner of the series between West Point Park and River Rouge, champions of the Down-River League.

Farmington Schools will be closed next Monday and Tuesday, October 28 and 29, due to sessions of the state education meeting, which all teachers are expected to attend.

NORTHWESTERN RALLIES TO WIN IN FINAL PERIOD

Geist Undertakers Lead Overcome Near End Of Game; Final Score Is 14 To 6

Overcoming a six-point lead which their opponents had maintained for three quarters, Northwestern A. C.'s football team staged a comeback in the fourth quarter and gained with the Geist Undertakers team of Detroit Sunday, winning 14 to 6.

The visiting team had scored in the first five minutes of play. After the touchdown had been made in the first quarter, Northwestern held their opponents in check, but were unable to score, until Kingsbury, right halfback, intercepted a Geist forward pass.

He made a beautiful play, running in front of a would-be receiver, batting the ball into the air, and catching it as it came down. Then he ran 40 yards past the Geist team for a touchdown. A point after touchdown put Northwestern in the lead, 7 to 6.

Another forward pass resulted in the final touchdown. Gates, Northwestern end, tossed 30 yards to Ed. Christianson, Northwestern's other end, and Christianson carried the ball over the goal line.

Others who starred were "Bud" Newcombe and Capt. George Robinson, whose judgment of Robins was a strong bog in the Northwestern attack. Wikom, star end, was out of the game, but is expected back soon.

Next Sunday Northwestern meets perhaps its hardest opponent of the season, the Behr Sport Club. This team last year defeated the RobRoys, the only squad to beat Northwestern during the entire season last year.

Northwestern plans to play all of its games this season on its home field on Middle Belt road between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

First Sanitary Case Trial Held

Violation Of Ordinance Found By Judge Schulte; May Be Appealed

The first trial in a case of alleged violation of the City of Farmington's Sanitary ordinance was held last Friday afternoon before Municipal Judge John J. Schulte, Jr. Clarence Utley was the defendant.

Clarence K. Patterson represented the City. Mr. Utley appeared in his own behalf. Witnesses were Dr. J. A. Miller, City health officer and Marl Pettibone. Dr. Miller and Mr. Pettibone testified to the existence of the ordinance and service on Mr. Utley. Mr. Utley cross-examined Mr. Pettibone vigorously regarding conditions of city public works.

Judge Schulte found that the ordinance had been violated and assessed a fine of $25 or five days, sentence to be suspended if Mr. Utley complied with the ordinance within two weeks.

Mr. Utley stated that he would appeal to the Circuit Court. On Wednesday it was reported that the case would probably be ended by disposal of the property by Mr. Utley.

An offer to the Michigan American Legion of a large tract of land on Higgins Lake, as a recreation spot for all Michigan ex-service men, is reported by Myron Carrier, commander of Groves-Walker Post, of Farmington. Golf Course Of 18 Holes Planned On Old Ely Farm

Public Links To Be Finished Within Year; Work Already Begun

An 18-hole golf course is to be built within the City of Farmington, on the old Ely farm, during the next year. It will be a public course, and probably have the name of "Farmington Country Club."

Preliminary work has already been begun, and it is expected that the course will be completed sometime during the latter part of the summer of 1930. A clubhouse will be erected on the course.

Confirmation of the report that a golf links would be laid out on the old Ely farm was made Thursday by Charles W. Burton, who, with his associates, has purchased the farm some years ago from Charles W. Ely of Farmington. Mr. Burton said that a new company will be formed, and will issue stock for sale to the public.

According to Mr. Burton, about 140 acres of the total of about 200 will be purchased for the golf course. The remaining 40 acres, most of which consists of frontage on Orchard Lake road and around the corner of Power avenue and Shiawassee street, will be subdivision property.

Plans for the new links have already been completed, Mr. Burton stated. The course has been laid out by J. H. Aimick, designer of the Bonnie Brook Golf Course.

CITY IS WILLING TO 'BUY OR SELL' THE POLICE BOOTH

Commission Ready To Close With Township At Fair Price; $300 Suggested

Sale of the booth which formerly housed the Farmington deputy sheriff headquarters by Farmington Township to the City is expected within the near future, the City Commission at its meeting Monday night having agreed that it would either buy the interest of the Township, or sell the City's interest at a fair price. The figure discussed was $300, about the amount each has in the building.

Formal notice that the agreement for the maintenance of the booth was at an end was received from Township Clerk Willard Campbell.

"Cleanup Days" were set for Tuesday and Wednesday, November 5 and 6. The City will haul away all rubbish for property owners who place it at the curb before those days.

The Commission agreed on a ruling that firemen must report at the fire-hall after each fire in order to obtain pay for calls. Waters Lee was added to the department.
