A Car That Storms Don't Stop

Snow and wind and ice may make many hesitate, but not the owner of a FORD Car. The superiority of FORD construction and performance shows up best when driving conditions are at their worst. The FORD Car's unusually high clearance and great power enables it to go through drifts that block many others; yet its sturdy, simplified, rigid construction makes it safe on any road. Its fully-enclosed six wheel brake system operates with uniform efficiency in any weather—in rain, snow, or sleet these brakes stop the car quickly, surely, and with little effort.

In fine weather the FORD Car gives the utmost in performance, pleasure and in value—in bad weather it gives the ultimate in comfort, satisfaction, and freedom from trouble. Ask for a demonstration, any day in any sort of weather.
