FARMINGTON H. S. MUSIC TEACHER WEDS MISS BOYD

Detroit Young Woman Is Bride Of Edward C. Eaton In Ceremony At Detroit

A wedding of much interest to many Farmington residents took place at Detroit last Saturday afternoon when Edward C. Eaton, instructor of music at Farmington schools was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Jean Boyd of Detroit.

The wedding took place at the Church of the Messiah, Lafayette and East Grand boulevard, at 4 o'clock. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Baker of Detroit and the groom by Raymond Pinch of Lansing. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by the church organist and the ceremony performed by Rev. Pierce.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The couple will reside in Redford, Mrs. Eaton planning to continue her work in Detroit. The wedding trip has been postponed until after the close of school in June.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mrs. Norman Barrons, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Grimme, and Miss Mabel Turner.

PROGRAM OF CHRISTMAS MUSIC GIVEN BY CHOIR

A program of Christmas music was given by the Methodist choir conducted by Charles Hutton, on Sunday evening. Concentrating upon four anthems, the work of the choir was generally conceded to be the best of its kind ever given here, by this group of singers.

In spite of the fact that the chorus was seriously handicapped by the lack of a sufficient number of tenor voices, the group displayed an unusually fine sense of feeling in each of the renditions, and made the most of the opportunities presented in each number for interpretation, and varied tonal effects.

Particularly noticeable was the marked improvement in their enunciation and the co-ordination of the different voice parts. The choir, in this short program, showed in a very pronounced manner the results of the serious, painstaking training given them by their director.

Klein Estate Again Made Game Sanctuary

Among the game sanctuaries approved by the State Conservation Commission recently is the F. J. Klein estate of North Farmington, on the 14-Mile road. The Klein property, comprising 191 acres, has been put on the list of sanctuaries for five more years. It has been a game sanctuary for many years.

Oakland County has at present 6,116 acres taken from the open hunting area, and protected by the State as a game refuge, to increase th gam supply. Hunting is prohibited on these tracts.

RUTH WHITNEY IS WED TO RUSSELL BANKS AT CHURCH

Daughter Of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitney Is Bride On New Year's Day

A New Year's Day wedding of interest was that of Miss Ruth Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitney of Farmington, and Russell Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Banks, Novi Township. The wedding took place in the Farmington Baptist Church.

Due to illness of the groom's mother, the ceremony was a simple one. The bridal party gathered before the altar at 2 o'clock. Miss Whitney was attended by her sister, Ola Whitney and Miss Mildred Brown. The groom was attended by a brother of the bride, Edward Whitney and Dean Parker. Rev. Elmer W. Palmer performed the ceremony.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home.

The bride is a graduate of Farmington Schools and has been in the employ of the Pere Marquette Railroad. Mr. Banks attended school in Pontiac, and is engaged in farming with his father.

14-MILE RESIDENT DIES IN DETROIT HOSPITAL AT 45

Funeral Saturday For Lifelong Resident Of 14-Mile Road

Just fifteen days after the death of his mother, Mrs. Della Pratt, Fred Pratt died at the Harper Hospital in Detroit on Christmas morning at 5:30 of heart trouble. His funeral was on Saturday afternoon at his home on the 14-Mile road, at 2 with Rev. A. K. MacRae officiating. Burial was held at Novi by the side of his mother.

Mr. Pratt was born October 9, 1884 in the house now occupied by the Bachelor brothers at the corner of 14-Mile road and Lake drive. His father, Charles Pratt, died 16 years ago. Deceased was taken to the Detroit hospital on Monday, December 16 following his mothers' funeral to undergo treatment and was apparently silghtly improved the night before Christmas. He had been unwell for some time but due to his mother's illness would not consider his own welfare.

He was a member of the Walled Lake Baptist Church and an officer. He was for a number of years superintendent of the Sunday School.

Relatives who survive are his mother's brother, Albert Baker, of Sylvan Lake, and his father's brothers and sisters Frank Pratt of Walled Lake, Samuel and Stephen of Detroit, Miss Ida Pratt of Northville and Mrs. William Blair of Gregory.

CHEVROLET PRODUCTION LAST YEAR SET RECORD

Surpassing by 150,000 cars and trucks its previous record annual achievement, the Chevrolet Motor Company, did in 1929 manufacture 1,350,000 automobiles, it has been announced at the central offices. Due to the tremendous popularity of the six cylinder car, introduced a year ago, 1929 was by a very wide margin the greatest year in Chevrolet history.

Chevrolet officials announce that daily, weekly and monthly production records were broken over and over again during 1929.

Eat and Save

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor:

These days most everybody are preaching economy in living and etc., but the great majority don't know how to go about it to lay something aside for a rainy day, of which God knows we have had enough of them on Long's Island this spring but anyway; I run across a married couple of man and wife the other day that has got 8 children all under 60 yrs. of age and the man showed me where he had solved the high cost problem and was saveing enough weekly so as in a few yrs. he can quit work and not half to worry as they will be enough in the bank to insure he and his family vs. want in their old age.

This man is a plasterer by trade and only making $250 per week, as the Union don't allow him to work Monday, Wednesday, Friday and holidays and only ½ day Saturdays A. M. Well, I night this man and the old lady, as he called his wife, set down and had a serious talk and begin to figure things out and found they were only laying $190 per week to 1 side and spending all the rest of it. I an few yrs. at that rate they would be liveing on the bounty of the country.

So this bird said to his wife, "We have got to economize somewheres or ruin is staring us in the face as all I can skimp up in my profession is $250 per week and we ain't saveing only $190. of it, and wile we are living in the lapse of luxury why suppose something happens to me so I couldn't plaster no more, where would you and the kiddies be at? So I propose that we start and run the house on the budget system."

So the Mrs. who had never seen the insides of a college asked him what was a budget system.

"Well," he says, "the word budget comes from 2 Lithuanian words, budg and et and it means I will give you $10. per week to buy the food and clothes and pay the rent and washing and services and etc., and I will take the other $240, and stick it in the old savelngs bank every week and in a few yrs. we can give the world the laugh even if I can't plaster or get plastered no more."

So his Mrs. was tickled to death and said let's try it.

Well, she set down with a paper and pencil and figured. Foiling is a typical expense account that she made out for a week:

MONDAY BREAKFAST: Anchovies, ripe olives, celery, clam broth, sword fish, ham and eggs, liver and bacon, lettuce and tomatoes with Coney Island dressing, honey dew a la mode, coffee and cigars, cognac. MONDAY LUNCHEON: Rum cocktail, terrapin, Rhode Island Reds, port, spinach and onions, toothpaste, coffee and cigars, Russian kummel. MONDAY DINNER: Caviar, Martinis, lobster, Guinea hen, O'Brien's potatoes, root, pudding, coffee and cigars, creme de menthe. Total expenses, $1.25.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday they was all too sick to eat anything.

FRIDAY BREAKFAST: Butterfish, weakfish, shred, halibut, sea bass. FRIDAY LUNCHEON: Brook trout, perches, white fish, catfish, dogfish, whale, coffee and cigars, sherry. FRIDAY DINNER: Oysters, clams, crawfish, smelts, redbots, shrimp, blue gills, hook, line and sinkers, coffee and cigars. Total expenses, $1.25.

SATURDAY BREAKFAST: Talcum powder, porterhouse, smothered onions, Long's Island prairie dogs, snipe, squab, quail, pheasant, Watertown geese, bacon and eggs, soup and fish. SATURDAY LUNCHEON: Robins, thrush, larks, bob-o-link, parrots, canaries, owl eyes, coffee and cigars. SATURDAY DINNER: Sherry and egg. Total expenses, $1.25.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST: Ice cream, vaseline, cigars and coffee. SUNDAY DINNER: Crackerjack, peanuts, pop corn, caromels, milk chocolate, chewing gum, candies, coffee and cigars. SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER: Belgian police dogs, Pomeranians, Yorkshire terriers, spaniels, mastiffs, Boston baked beans, greyhounds, wolf hounds, Airedales, setters, pointers, water and cigars, cognac. Total expenses, $1.25.

This left Mrs. Plasterer with $5.00 bucks per week to throw away on her and the kids as the husband could get along O. K. on his plasterers uniform, so she decided for the best way to do would be to let the kids run around bare and that left her with $1.00 per week to buy shoes, or 1 pair a week and still leave her $1.00 to stick in the savelngs bank.

As for the clothes outside of the shoes and etc., my friend the plasterer's wife saved enough shells from the seafood to keep her children in shell glasses as they was all near sighted, and she saved enough bones off the fish to keep herself in corsets, and she saved enough fur off the dogs to make herself a coat and enough fur off the birds to keep her in hats and enough leaves off the lettuce and anchovies to make her dresses, and all in all it will take a whole lot of tough luck for his family to find themselfs in the realms of poverty, and I give the details to your readers in the hopes that they profit by it, as all a person needs to beat the cost of liveing is a budget system and a thrifty wife.
