The Latch-Key

Vol. II: No. 30.

VISIT FORD MOTOR PLANT With Mr. Hall at the wheel of the bus packed to its capacity, the commercial geography class rode to Dearborn where they gent Tuesday morning at the Ford Motor Company factory.
On entering the buildings they wer given waivers to sign, which put them at their own risk while going through the buildings.
This caused much excitement, but after a short while they had all signed on the dotted line and started through.
According to information received from the group, the class were most interested in the making of glass, the assembling of cars, pouring castings for motors, the powerhouse.
