SCOUTS TO ATTEND 2-DAY "JAMBOREE" OF OAKLAND AREA

Oakland Council Scouts to Gather At Rochester Friday And Saturday

The Oakland Area Council of Boy Scouts has announced that about 30 troops will be in Rochester on Friday night, June 5, to participate in the Oakland Area week-end jamboree there. The occasion for the large event is the dedication of an island. A number of Clarenceville Scouts will attend and enter events.

Rochester Scouts, in preparation for the jamboree have built a bridge across the creek to the island and have erected four typical Indian teepees and a wigwam, which are painted in traditional Indian style. Upon this island and on a bluff overlooking it, scouts from the visiting thirty Pontiac Area troops will camp on Friday night. The two-day jamboree will be opened by a parade at 7:30 p. m., a feature of which will be a group of Indian dances by the Buffalo Society of First Class Scouts.

On Saturday, there will be a hike to the state park for nature study, and in the afternoon will take place. It will comprise knot-tying contests, compass tests, packing, judging, signalling, axeman-ship, firemaking, water boiling, jumps, and relays. Prizes consisting of bugles will be awarded to various troops participating in the parade, and a pennant will be awarded to the winner of the jamboree.

All boys, whether scouts or not, and their parents are invited to the street events on Friday night, and to visit the island scout paradise and teepees Saturday.

CHURCH ON RADIO

Specially rigid rules are in force at the camp regarding the use of the boats. Before they are permitted to go boating without adults, boys must pass the boating test which demonstrates their ability to handle these crafts under all conditions. Eighteen boats are available for those who can qualify to use them. Last season the boys rigged a full-sized sailboat and spent many exhilarating hours piloting it about Loon Lake.

REAL FISHING AT Y. CAMP

When the Oakland County Y. M. C. A. Camp on Loon Lake, up in Isoco County, opens for its second season a few weeks from now, its facilities for the care of the boys entrusted to it for the summer will be even more complete than they were last year. Additions are being made this month to the accommodations which the camp provides for medical care and attention for its boys.

To judge by its record last summer, the first season it operated, the camp is a remarkably healthful place. Not only were there no serious cases of illness during the entire summer, but there was an average weight increase of two pounds per boy. This increase may be regarded as especially unusual in light of the fact that it was registered in spite of regular and strenuous exercise which was a daily feature of camp life. Boating, bathing, hiking, and all sorts of athletic pursuits make up the program of the camp.

Some idea of the precautions taken for the boys' welfare may be gained from the fact that a doctor and an Oakland County Board of Health nurse are available at all times. These facilities for the care of the camp are improving in preparation for the coming season, by replacing last season's hospital tent with a well-designed building, planned as an infirmary, mess hall, and meeting place.

Parents who send their sons to the camp may be sure that living conditions will rival those at home. The camp had a sanitary rating of 94 per cent last season, and the same high standards, will be maintained this year. Moreover, the boys are under close supervision at all times. Adult counselors are maintained in the ratio of one counselor to seven boys. Associated with each adult leader is a junior leader, usually a high school boy whom the Association is developing into an adult leader of the future.

Especially rigid rules are in force at the camp regarding the use of the boats. Before they are permitted to go boating without adults, boys must pass the boating test which demonstrates their ability to handle these crafts under all conditions. Eighteen boats are available for those who can qualify to use them. Last season the boys rigged a full-sized sailboat and spent many exhilarating hours piloting it about Loon Lake.

Such is the emphasis laid on the importance of swimming ability that only eight boys out of all last summer's camp enrollment returned to their homes without having passed the beginner's swimming test, and 25 or 30 had passed the life saving test and earned Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross pins by proficiency in the water.

The improvements scheduled for the coming summer are being financed by popular subscription. All residents of Oakland County will have an opportunity to make an investment as modest or as large as they desire, in the future manhood of their state and country. Those wishing to contribute should communicate with any of the four Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Oakland County—Pontiac, Birmingham, Troy and Country, or Royal Oak Township.

F. H. S. TAKES 3 POINTS IN LEAGUE TRACK MEET

Farmington took 3 points in the suburban league track meet, which was held at Ypsilanti on the Normal College track last Saturday.

Jack Jyleen, who took second in the javelin, was the only Triton to take any points. The rest of the team was unfortunate in the fact that they took five fifth places; Fendt, Gaff, Ross, Cox and Brooks finished just out of the point-winning groups.

This was the final meet of the year, and the last track appearance of Ross, Cox, Gaff and Jyleen who will graduate in June.

get three runs. The Tritons were able to come back to score one run in the second and three in the third to go into a one-run lead. However Lincoln Park scored a run in the fourth and another in the fifth, but the Tritons came back in their half of the fifth to tie the score at 5 all.

Both teams then played scoreless ball until the Tritons came to bat in the first of the ninth, Cox, the first man up, was walked, and stole second. Cairns, the next batter, hit one into right field, Cox scoring the winning run on the throw-in.

Fendt hurled the entire route for Farmington, while Harden was in the mound for Lincoln Park.

BACCALAUREATE

Rev. A. A. Schoen will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon June 14 at the Methodist church. The honor banquet will be held Thursday evening, June 11. Superintendent Thad Knapp of Northville will be the principal speaker.

J-Hop—Northville Country club June 12.

J-HOP INFORMAL

The J-Hop to be given at the Northville Country Club, June 12, by the Farmington Junior class will be decidedly informal. Contrary to rumor tuxedos and formal attire are not necessary since informal and sports wear will predominate. Excellent music will be furnished by George Mohler and his orchestra.

GRADE NEWS

The first grade has built a library in their room from which they can check out books. The first and second grade are busy practicing for the health pageant.

The second grade are making circus books this week. The Girls Glee club will sing during the church service Sunday June 14, at the Methodist church. The seventh grade visited the Detroit Art Museum last Thursday, and they enjoyed it immensely.

Miss Hyde took a group of girls to the Childrens hospital Tuesday.

The Senior skip day occurred Wednesday. Mrs. Ault and Mrs. Mensell accompanied the class. A picnic was held at Island Lake with swimming and roller skating as diversions.

Farmington defeated Lincoln Park Friday in a 9-inning game, which gives the Tritons second place in the league, winning four and losing two. Lincoln Park bunched their hits in the first inning and managed to

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Jack Jyleen got second place in the javelin at the last track meet. It won't be long now, before the seniors get their diplomas. The senior class still needs money. Baseball is not going so good now. Nicholson went to the last track meet.

The seniors are getting to be A-1 theme writers. Skipping is a thing of the past. There will be one hour class periods next year.

A Bank Is Known By the Customers It Keeps

YOU can estimate for yourself the kind of bank you are dealing with by one very simple method. Look closely at the kind of customers it keeps, the customers who have there all that they have of worldly wealth, all they have to spare, and all funds they are using for daily needs. Those completely confident customers are an accurate measure of the safety, the security and the strength of the bank they are using.
