

COACH'S THREAT EFFECTIVE—TEAM SAVES SCHEDULE

Farmington High Boys Make Pledge To Coach: Play Well Against Pontiac

"Off again, on again, Finnegans," a favorite saying of many years ago, seems to have been governing the destinies of Farmington High School baseball team of late.

Last Friday it was reported, Coach Maxwell Shadley, disgusted with the failure of the players to report for practice and general disinclination, threatened to call off the remaining five games on the schedule.

The threat had the desired effect, for a "team meeting" was held, it is reported, and the players pledged that at least nine would report every afternoon for practice. With this promise, the schedule went on.

The team then made a strong comeback by holding the fast Pontiac High team to a 5 to 4 score in an eight-inning game Wednesday afternoon. On Friday afternoon they play against Wayne on the Farmington field.

They're Busy All the Time In Camp!

Volunteers throughout the county are seeking funds to complete payment on the site of the Oakland County Y. M. C. A. Camp which was launched last summer at Loon Lake, up in Isoc County. The camp's record last season was 400 boys cared for, with an average weight gain of two pounds per boy and an average all-round benefit which parents evaluated far beyond money.

Practically all the boys who were enrolled in the camp last summer plan to return this year, and there will undoubtedly be as many more as the camp can accommodate. In preparation for the added enrollment, officials of the camp are enlarging its facilities by the construction of a permanent building, which will house the camp hospital, and Oakland County Board of Health nurse.

As the picture above indicates, there is always something doing at camp. The boys are permitted to choose the lines of activity they shall follow, and are then provided with adult guidance in the chosen lines. Classes offered throughout the summer as a part of the camp routine include archery, basketball, boxing, carpentry, croquet, forestry, geology, glass blowing, diving, drawing, sketching, fishing, casting, ice, aid, high-bar performance, journalism, music, nature study, leatherwork, life-saving, model building, photography, soap carving, tumbling, woodcraft, wrestling, metalwork, carpentry, and dramatics.

A new boy entering camp undergoes health examination and psychology tests, and also fills out an interest blank indicating along what lines his natural talents lie. He is thus enabled to enroll in the special study classes best fitted to his needs.

The camp's great value as a

Detroit Has Read

Enterprise 43 Years

Albert Canfield of Detroit, who has taken the Farmington Enterprise practically since its founding 43 years ago, still reads and enjoys the paper, although no longer a resident of Farmington.

Mr. Canfield told the Enterprise, while here to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, James Conroy, who died recently, that he had subscribed to the paper when it was owned by Edgar Bloomer, the founder, and has continued to read and enjoy it ever since.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM IS HINDERED BY RAIN

Plans For Address And Raising Of Flag At Cemetery Saturday Abandoned

A steady downpour of rain on Saturday had little effect on the attendance at Memorial Day exercises, but resulted in curtailment of the program at Oakwood Cemetery.

Members of the American Legion, the Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Farmington High School band, and school children gathered at the Town Hall for the march to the cemetery. At the grave of the "unknown soldier," a salute was fired. An address by Rev. Floyd Charles Johnson and raising of the flag were scheduled, but when the rain showed no signs of abating, the program was abandoned. The salute was fired by the Groves-Walker Post firing squad.

Commerce Man Is Injured In Accident

William McNulty, 34 years old, of Commerce village, is in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, suffering from fractures of his leg, arm and jaw as result of an auto accident last Friday. His condition was reported improved Friday.

Mr. McNulty was injured when his automobile collided with another car driven by Vern Mackley of Pontiac head-on on the North White Lake road near White Lake Town House. The injured man was delivering papers on his route when the accident occurred. His car was practically demolished.

Arthur Richardson is taking care of McNulty's paper route while he is in the hospital.

LODGE PAYS HONOR TO PAST MASTERS: PLAN CHURCH DAY

Farmington Masons Will Attend Service At Methodist Church Sunday Night

Past Masters and other members of Farmington Lodge, No. 121, F. and A. M., enjoyed its annual past masters' night on Monday evening. Lodge leaders of former years and members of other lodges gathered for the occasion.

Although the attendance was not large, an interesting program was enjoyed. E. J. Doerr, worshipful master of Pontiac Lodge No. 21, delivered an address on the meaning of Masonry. Lloyd Pierson offered several xylophone solos, accompanied by Heywood Salow.

Members of the Farmington Lodge will observe a "Church Day" event Sunday, when they will attend in a body the evening service at Farmington Methodist Church. Rev. Floyd Charles Johnson, the pastor, recently completed the taking of his three degrees as a Mason.

A number of Eastern Star members are also expected to attend the Sunday evening services.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We would like to tell you about our papers being stolen.

We did not think people stole that way. Everybody thinks the paper boy must be honest, they do not show us that they are honest because they are not when they take our papers and either don't drop any money or just a penny or so. We must pay for our papers. If they took things in a store without paying wouldn't they be punished? Isn't taking our papers without paying the same thing?

If we must not steal, why is it all right for big people to steal, even if it is from a paper boy. We think it's stealing. We have about five papers stolen every day and sometimes more on Sunday so we think there must be that many mean people in this town.

We hope that people will help us to be honest by being honest themselves. Please pay the full amount for your paper, we have to pay for ours.

Yours truly

Sneaks To Club On Cause Of Crime Wave

Still another factor of importance, Dr. Riddell said, is the fact that all biological and all psychological theory and teaching in our educational institutions has a material foundation. The almost universal theory of biologists and of psychologists today is that not only physical but also all mental activity is nothing more than chemical action and reaction. Thus, said the speaker, has developed a non-spiritual and non-religious attitude toward life and the origin and destiny of man. This has been attended by a greater laxity toward moral and religious and ethical problems generally, the speaker said.

Dr. Riddell praised Judge Ben E. Lindsey of Denver, noted exponent of companionate marriage, declaring that Judge Lindsey had been much maligned by people who misunderstand his aims. The Denver jurist, Dr. Riddell asserted, has been endeavoring to offer a better way out of undesirable conditions now existing, rather than proposing an increased moral laxity.

Dr. Riddell attended the luncheon as the guest of Rev. Elmer W. Palmer.
