Women's Rights

Women who keep house have a right to happy, care-free hours, but household duties sometimes make their leisure moments few. Eliminating needless tasks points the way for enjoyment, and one of the easiest things to eliminate is baking at home over a hot oven—especially in summer.

It's needless, when we bake such fine things of every kind—pies, cookies, pastry, rolls and "BAKER BOY" Bread. Let us help you enjoy THIS summer.

HARROW KILLS WEEDS BEFORE CROP STARTS

East Lansing.—The easiest way and the cheapest way method to destroy weeds in potato fields, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College, is to use a spike tooth harrow before the potatoes are up and a weeder until the plants are six to eight inches tall.

More ground can be covered with the harrow in a day than can be tilled with a cultivator, and the weeds are small and easily killed at the proper time for harrowing. The use of the harrow and a cultivator, if needed, smooths down the ridges which the planter leaves in the field, and the surface tillage helps retain moisture in the soil.

Automobile Provides Economical Vacation

Motoring provides one of the most enjoyable and most economical kinds of vacation. Olin Russell, local Ford dealer, said today in suggesting that vacation plans be laid well in advance.

"With our tens of thousands of miles of good roads and with our modern dependable automobiles that are both fast and economical to operate, anyone who owns a car can plan an enjoyable vacation," Mr. Russell said, "Whether you have a week, two weeks or a month, you can depend upon your automobile to take you to interesting places with the utmost comfort.

"Many of our customers have found it is cheaper to travel in a car than any other way and in addition that they can go where they wish when they wish and stop whenever they feel like it. Some of those who like to camp, hitch trailers behind their cars to carry their tents and camping equipment. Others, many of whom stop at tourist camps, carry all their luggage in the cars and in the running board racks.

"If you are thinking of buying a new car, now is the time to do it so that it will be available for vacation time. If you plan to continue driving your present car, now is the time to have it checked up and serviced so that it will be in the best condition for that vacation tour."

RIGHT SPRAYS HELP QUALITY OF MELONS

East Lansing.—Michigan gardeners who anticipate the delight of consuming home grown cantaloupes can increase their chances of realizing their desires by the use of control measures which repel the attacks of disease and insects.

The vines may be sprayed with a 3-4-50 Bordeaux solution to which has been added one-half pound of resin-fish-oil. This should be applied when the first set of fruit have reaches the size of a hen's egg and can be repeated as often as disease conditions warrant. The spray should be applied when the plants are dry.

A dust made by mixing 5 per cent of calcium arsenate in 95 per cent of agriculture gypsum will discourage cucumber beetles, and a 3 per cent nicotine dust will control aphids or plant lice.

FAN CALLS FROM COAST TO APPLAUD RADIO PERFORMER

Radio artists, following their performances, often receive telephone calls from distant points, made by enthusiastic listeners who desire to tell the artists how much their program was enjoyed.

Ernie Hare, of the famous team of Billy Jones and Ernie Hare, the Intertown Pair, claims a record. At the conclusion of a recent program in New York City he was hurried to a foyer telephone where he received a long distance fan call from Portland, Ore., from an admirer who desired to tell the boys how much their programs were being enjoyed on the Pacific Coast.

Bachelors Are Reported to Be Most Polite Telephone Users

Single men are more courteous over the telephone than are women or married men. At least such is the deduction of a reporter for the Des Moines, Ia., Register who recently interviewed various telephone operators in that city on the question, "Are married men, bachelors or women the most polite over the telephone?" According to the operators, married men are impatient and demand more in the way of service, while women are not as considerate and get excited more easily. Men in business are said to be those who seem best to understand telephone usage, and single men are reported by the operators to be the best telephone users, as they are "much more polite."

Three Telephone Workers Receive Silver Vail Medals

Learning that Gore, Va., was endangered by fire, Mr. Vannoy hurried there from Winchester, 12 miles away, took the telephone operator's place, called more help for the town, and finally removed the electric board and equipment from the burning building and within 20 minutes established emergency telephone service in an open field. When Miss Haase was informed that a Clinton bank had been robbed, she notified local authorities and then called towns in the direction toward which the bandits had fled by automobile, and by tracing their flight from town to town and farm to farm she spread a circle of alarm by telephone which resulted in their capture and the of the robbery. While Mr. Strang and Edward Debro were washing windows outside the unoccupied fifth floor of a building, one side of Debro's safety belt became detached, leaving him dangling helplessly below the window from one belt hook. Despite the double strain on his own safety belt, Strang hooked one side of it to the strap which held Debro and pulled him to safety. Miss Haase and Messrs. Vannoy and Strang have received national awards of silver Vail medals, and 38 bronze medals have been awarded to telephone workers throughout the country for other acts during 1930 which illustrate the public service ideals of the late Theodore N. Vail, former president of the Amer-
