MOTORISTS SLOW IN OBTAINING LICENSES

Lansing.—Unless there is a great increase in the number of new drivers' licenses issued, about one-half of the motorists in Michigan will be unable to drive after Nov. 1, Department of State statistics indicate.

Since the new re-registration law became effective, 44,050 licenses have been issued. At this rate only 300,000 licenses will be granted by Nov. 1, which is the expiration date for all those who registered before Jan. 1, 1926.

Due to the provisions of the new law, 44 applicants for new licenses are being rejected by the department while 176 are being investigated.

NEW STANDARDS REACHED IN 1930 BY BELL SYSTEM

Improvements Made in Various Departments of Telephone Service in Past Year

A new record for accuracy and speed of telephone service in the Bell System was set in 1930. This was due partly to the larger margins of plant, but chiefly to improved operation.

Constant Research is Carried On This improved operation is reflected in the rapidity with which long distance calls were completed during the year. The percentage of calls which were handled without the person making the call hanging up the telephone was 82 per cent in 1930, as compared with 70 per cent in the previous year, according to the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

This was also accompanied by improvements in the standards of transmission, which, being of a gradual character, are not apt to be particularly noticed by the public at large, but which do result in greatly increasing the ease and comfort of telephoning, while decreasing the amount of repetition in telephone conversations.

These improvements are the result of extensive research and development on the part of the Bell System engineers. Among the accomplishments, in addition to those in radio telephony, that have resulted in extending service to many parts of the world were improvements in long distance transmission, in carrier current systems whereby several telephone or telegraph messages, or both, are carried simultaneously over a pair of wires, and in the design of long distance cable circuits that will have the high standard of efficiency necessary for present-day radio broadcast service and, at the same time, provide additional insurance against storm damage.

Trouble Was Cleared More Quickly The telephone plant in 1930 was increasingly free from trouble, following the introduction of improved methods and improved administration and training. In 1930 there was trouble on a subscriber's line on the average of only once in every 22 months, as compared with once in every twenty months in 1929. Of these troubles, some 90 per cent were corrected on the day reported, as compared with 87 per cent in 1929.

During the year, more than 300,000 telephone were changed from manual to dial operation. While the dial system is automatic, it uses many operators for special purposes, and it is interesting to note that since its introduction in the system in 1921, the number of telephone operators has actually risen from 123,000 a decade ago to 155,000 operators at the end of 1930.

When a New York couple were divorced recently an agreement was made whereby the former husband and wife are each to keep their pet dog half of the time. To round out the story with a happy ending it should develop that their love for the dog brings about a reconciliation.

INTERSECTION IN FARMINGTON MAY BE USED SATURDAY

Pouring Of Cement Thursday Will Allow Use Of New Pavement By Traffic

The intersection at Grand River and Farmington roads, which is being paved, may be open to traffic Saturday morning, provided there is no rain, it was indicated by officials. Pouring of the cement was started Thursday. A number of men worked all night Wednesday night.

Motorists who park their cars in the City are urged to use the parking lot in the rear of the Police Booth to avoid congestion near the corner, while it is under repair. The lot can be reached by driving through the alley in rear of the Consumers Power office and the Auto Shop.

Auto Executive Cites Value Of Advertising

Evidence of definitely improving business conditions was presented by H. J. Klinger, Vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, upon his return to the central office after six months of almost continuous traveling over all parts of the country.

Citing figures of his own company in support of his belief, Mr. Klinger said that the final tabulation of June sales would show the current month ahead of last June, and that he expected every remaining month this year to show a gain over the corresponding month of 1930.

"Advertising is the great builder of confidence. It brings money into circulation, which means good times. This year we increased our newspaper advertising over last year.

"Other companies, notably the American Tobacco Company, the National Biscuit Company, and others who faced the depression by intensifying their campaigns, are achieving results beyond even the peak year of 1929. There is ample evidence to prove that the way out of depression is by backing a worthy product by intensive and intelligent merchandising."
