New Valuations Set By State—Hearing Monday

is felt in the County tax, since the County's share of the State levy must be raised on the basis of its production of the entire State roll. There is no appeal from the valuations of the tax commissioners except to the commissioners themselves.

However, there have been hints of court action to check the State body. Oakland County supervisors recently passed a resolution threatening the tax commission with injunction if they attempted to put into effect the new and higher valuations in this County without covering the rest of the State, on the ground of discrimination.

Plan Mass-Meeting

The irate Birmingham property owners were summoned by leaders to a mass-meeting of protest. At that hearing a series of nine questions was put to Edwin F. Saunders, chairman. Mr. Saunders refused to answer the queries. Immediately a paper of protest was prepared and circulated. The supervisor of that Township, Perry Vaughan, supervisor of the township (Bloomfield), engaged expert tax attorneys with the view to ignoring the State's new assessments and laying on the basis of the township's own valuations.

Hearing At 9 O'clock

A large pile of post-cards remain in the Farmington post-office, undelivered, those to whom the cards are addressed not receiving their mail here. The notices read as follows:

"You are hereby notified that the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission have ordered a review of the assessment of the city of Farmington and the Township of Farmington, County of Oakland, Michigan, for the year 1931, and that a public hearing will be held in the Township Hall in the City of Farmington on Monday, October 19, 1931.

"The hearing will begin at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern Standard time, and close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on the date named.

"All taxpayers will be given an opportunity to be heard at this hearing relative to their property valuations. Please bring with you your last year's tax receipt."

The members of the State Tax Commission are Mr. Saunders of Detroit, Alvin E. Richards of Marquette and Melville B. McPherson of Lowell.

Ladies Aid Society Plans Annual Chicken Supper

Mrs. Ray Oldham, a delegate from the Salem church, returned with a report on the Ninth Annual Convention of the Evangelical Women's Union held in Detroit, September 24.

NORTHWESTERN "11" TO OPPOSE DUSTER GRID TEAM SUNDAY

Score First Win Of Season Sunday In Beating Tiresman Merchants

Northwestern Athletic club will meet the strong Duster A. C. Sunday at the N. W. A. C. on Middle Belt Road between Seven and Eight Mile roads at 3 o'clock.

Northwestern Athletic Club broke its two game losing streak Sunday at Northwestern field and triumphed over the Tiresman Merchants of Detroit, 24-0, in a game that lacked little for those searching for thrills. Forward passing mixed with a strong running attack, accounted for the N. W. A. C.'s first victory of the season.

N. W. A. C. completed five out of six passes attempted, one going for a touchdown. Perceus scored one touchdown on a 20 yard sprint off tackle and Robinson accounted for the other scores with plunges through the line.

Northwestern counted a touchdown in the second period, two in the third, and the final one in the last quarter.

Outstanding for N. W. A. C. were Roscoe Bloom at right end and Kingsbury, who relieved Rife at right half.

Motorist Warned To Get License Renewals

October 31 is positively the last date motorists may drive with operator's licenses, dated prior to January 1, 1932, police officers emphasize. The penalty for such a violation is 90 days in jail or a $100 fine.

Operators with licenses dated January 1, 1932 or after up to January 1, 1933 have until May 1, 1932 to secure a new license. Those who obtained present licenses after January 1, 1933 have until September 1, 1932 to secure a renewal.

This is in conformity with the State law which went into effect May 1, 1931.

Late Gov. Warner Among 20 Men To Be Honored

honor of the man was a brief resume of each man's career. That regarding Gov. Warner reads as follows:

"An outstanding characteristic of Fred M. Warner, governor of Michigan from 1905 to 1911, was that though he stuck to his convictions when he was sure they were right, he never lost his temper in a controversy. Born in Nottinghamshire, England, July 21, 1865, he was 7 years old when his parents brought him to the United States. Both of his parents died soon after they had settled on a small tract of wild woodland near Farmington, Michigan and he was adopted by P. D. Warner, a citizen of importance in Farmington, who gave him his name.

"After a common school education and one year at Michigan Agriculture College, Fred quit school and began work in his father's store, of which he assumed management at the age of 21. At 23 he started his first cheese factory, and in the years following built up a large business composed of small factories, became chief owner and president of the Farmington Exchange Bank and was for a long time vice-president of the United Savings Bank of Detroit. He was president of Farmington for six years.

"Two terms as Senator for the district that composed Oakland and Macomb Counties marked Mr. Warner's entrance into State politics. In 1905, when he was elected for his first term as Governor of Michigan, he had not completed his second term as secretary of state, an office he had assumed in 1900. Mr. Warner's last political affiliation was as Republican national committee man from Michigan, an office he held from 1920 until the time of his death. He died in Orlando, Fla., April 17, 1923.

"Gov. Warner established and helped make into laws the 2-cent fare act, the state-wide primary act, the act creating the State railroad commission and giving the commission large powers to regulate rates and the service of public utilities, an act making stock watering illegal, and the act establishing a binder twine plant in Jackson prison."

STATE COMMISSION URGES SETTING UP COUNTY AGENCIES

Letter From Unemployment Commission Asks Cooperation Of Cities and Villages

The State Unemployment Commission recently adopted a resolution recommending to the chairmen of the county boards of supervisors and mayors of villages and cities that county unemployment committees be appointed.

A letter from the Commission follows:

I am instructed to inform you that the State Unemployment Commission in session at Lansing, Friday, October 9th, adopted the following resolution of immediate interest to you:

"The chairman of the State Unemployment Commission is authorized to inform the chairmen of the county boards of supervisors and the mayors of the various cities and villages that this commission recommends the creation of County Unemployment Committees but not later than October 15. Such county committees should include representatives of the various units of local government and such industrial, labor, religious, fraternal, social, and other groups as may be of value.

An outstanding man should be selected locally as county chairman to serve voluntarily as the representative of the State Unemployment Commission. The county chairman is to establish working relations with existing relief agencies and to aid in the reduction of unemployment. The State Welfare Department and the State Department of Labor and Industry will work with the county unemployment committees."

Woman's Club Holds Meeting—Hear Talk

The first regular meeting of the Farmington Women's club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Arthur Crawford where 44 members enjoyed a luncheon prepared by the hostess and members of the club.

Methodist Aid Society Plans Harvest Festival

A Harvest Festival is planned by the Methodist Ladies Aid Society October 22, at the church. Supper will be served, a fruit sale held and entertainment provided. The Festival is planned to replace the annual bazaar usually held.

A playlet will be presented with several children taking part and two small girls will give a tap dance. The Methodist quartet will sing several numbers.

Well, they can raise the rail rates if they want to. We would prefer to walk anyhow.
