Washington

A price upon his priceless head, 'Mid war and winter's scourge. What thot he as the blood stained snow He trod at Valley Forge?

Desertion thinned his weakened ranks And hunger took its toll, But thru it all like beacon light, Stood his great noble soul.

Vrapped in his arms, a Nation child He tenderly caressed. With Yorktown came the Victory And God his cause had blessed.

He spurned the crown for those unborn And us a Nation gave.
We thank our God for Washington,
The noblest of the brave.
