

Campus Safety Improved At OU

By ELINOR GRAHAM
ROCHESTER

Doubled campus security personnel and a new outdoor lighting system have resulted in 29 crime-free days at Oakland University. President Donald O'Dowd told a parents' day audience.

A rash of incidents earlier this fall brought about expulsions, security clampdown and the new, bright lights.

O'Dowd told of these trends on the campus scene:

The school papers have gone from political to informative. From having practically no restrictions, the dormitories are setting up their own governing bodies.

A FEW YEARS ago each graduate could expect eight to 10 job offers. Now the school can line up one job per graduate. If this one is not acceptable, they are on their own. The school can do no more.

According to O'Dowd, the university is discouraging girls from entering teaching at this time. But there is a

Smith To Head Oakland GOP

Sheldon B. Smith, already chairman of the 19th Congressional District Republican organization, will now head the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

Smith was elected recently by a unanimous vote of the party's executive committee. He succeeds Robert B. Webster, who resigned due to "professional demands."

Smith, 32, of Keego Harbor, will lead all GOP activities in the county, which includes all of the 18th Congressional District and about 60 per cent of the 19th.

He is owner of the Rolfe H. Smith Co., a Pontiac real estate firm; president of the Pontiac Area Board of Realtors, and a director of the Michigan Real Estate Assn.

Before getting into real estate in 1961, he was program director and chief announcer

19th District Dems Dine Nov. 20

The annual dinner of the 19th Democratic Congressional District Committee will take place at the Sheraton Motor Inn, 1001 Woodward, Pontiac, on Saturday, Nov. 20, according to Chairman Eugene Kuthy, Orchard Lake.

Honorary chairman for the event is Fred Harris, 34134 Old Timer Court, Farmington. Harris was the 1970 Democratic congressional candidate. The dinner is held as a fund raiser for the work of the committee, which includes portions of Wayne and Oakland counties.

Other members of the dinner committee are: program book, Mrs. Marie Mutschall, 25339 Westmoreland, Farmington, and Mrs. Barbara Johnson, 29620 Lori, Livonia; arrangements, Mrs. Judy Konarski, 11344 Dixie, Redford Township, and Mrs. Ruth Sullivan, 11658 Beech-Daly Road, Redford Township; and Mrs. Estelle Kadish, 18857 Purlingbrook, Livonia.

Tickets at $25 per couple ($12.50 individual) may be obtained from the Oakland County Democratic headquarters, 1700 South Telegraph, Pontiac 48063.

The dinner, to be held in the lavish main banquet room of the Sheraton Motor Inn, will begin at 7 p.m., with cocktails at 6 p.m.

WC Art Group Donates $100

A gift of $100 from the Western Wayne County Art Association was accepted by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

The $100 will be deposited in the scholarship and loan fund.

KENNETH WINTERLE of 27598 Echo Valley, Farmington, has been appointed manager of Thompson-Brown Co.'s Dearborn Heights resale division office. A native of Plainwell, Winterle earned a silver star while serving in the Army Combat Engineers during World War II and entered real estate after serving in sales management with the former Hekman Biscuit Co.

Job Market Topic At Schoolcraft

The director of placement for Eastern Michigan University will be at Schoolcraft College on Nov. 16. Richard J. Nisbet will speak to the question of job opportunities for persons with the bachelor degree.

Nisbet's appearance has been arranged by John Webber, Schoolcraft's director of counseling. He said it is open to college students and staff, high school counselors and the general public.

The largest number of Schoolcraft students who transfer to senior colleges each year go on to EMU.

Nisbet will speak at 1 p.m. in the Forum Building Theater. A question and answer period will follow his prepared text.
