With casting completed, rehearsals are now under way for the presentation of "Never Too Late" by the Plymouth Theater Guild.

that he will no longer have peace and quiet in his home, as well as undisputed power to have his whims satisfied.

HELEN FORTNEY will play Edith Lambert, his middle-aged wife, who regards the new situation joyously, though she has a lot of difficulty getting her crochety husband adjusted to it.

THE COMEDY, by Sumner Arthur Long, details the hilarious upheavals that come into the lives of an average small-town family whose belated "blessed event" looms for them 20 years after such an event might be expected.

Cook as Harry Lambert will be seen as a 60ish husband who is devastated at the news

Judy Pavia and Tom Butki will play Kate and Charley, the Lamberts' grown-up daughter and son-in-law. Others in the cast are Clemmie Cyburt, Richard Brown, Robert Hruska and Edward Wojtan.

Andy Hruska is the director and Stie Kuisel is the producer.

"FLOWERS FOR ALGERNON" is being presented this weekend by the Wayne Civic Players. The story will be performed Saturday, Nov. 6, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m., in John Glenn High School, Westland. Shown as Riley Tadlock as Dr. Strauss and Dan Myers as Charlie. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Anne Button, 35042 Hees, Livonia.

DICK BENSE.

It is clear that we Americans have generally lost the habit of feasting. Yes, we do have big meals at say, Thanksgiving. But are they feasts? Believe it or not, 16th century Italians knew more about feasting than we know now. Consider the feast at the marriage of the Duke of Mantua in 1551. Salads made of castles of turnips, high walls of lemons, olives, caviar, candied flowers. Then came venison patties in the shape of lions, white peacocks cooked and re-clothed in their fanned-out tails. These visual gourmet treats continued to the point of three large mythological statues being made of marzipan! Obviously, for those Italians, food was made for the eye as well as the palate, and perhaps that is the essential fact to remember when you plan your next feast!

Treat yourself to dinner at DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. Where food is cooked and served to please the eye and the palate. We have a 33-entree menu for your selection and the four favorites are — Roast Prime Rib of Beef, Dover Sole with Almondine, Viking Sword and the house special, Fika-deller. If you let us know we will be pleased to provide you with a decorated cake for birthday or anniversaries.

HELPFUL HINT: When rolling meat balls, stick your fingers in water first. This will prevent your fingers from sticking.

The event will be held in the Farmington Masonic Temple, Grand River and Farmington Roads, Friday, Nov. 12 and Saturday, Nov. 13, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 14, from noon to 5 p.m.

The club, entering its seventh year, has a membership of 105 artists from Farmington and the surrounding area. The exhibit is a semi-annual event with the club.

The show will be judged by Russell Keeter, instructor at the Society of Arts and Crafts, Detroit. Keeter studied fine arts at the society, as well as at the Ringling School of Art, Sarasota, Fla., and the Pennsylvania School of Fine Arts.

Besides the regular gallery, there will be an art on a budget department and an auction Sunday afternoon at 3.
