Norman C. Orr Has Had Active Career In Law

Norman C. Orr, candidate for County, says:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Prosecuting Attorney on the Republican ticket, I wish to submit to the voters of this County, some extremely vital facts: First, that never before in its history has this County needed, as it needs, fearless, impartial, aggressive, competent administration in this particular office. To accomplish this, your Prosecutor must be an able trial lawyer, as well as a counsellor, thoroughly conversant with the law—both civil and criminal. Second, in spite of the fact that the volume of business in the Prosecutor's office has decreased fifty percent during the last two years, as compared with the previous two years, the cost of the present administration has advanced twenty-two percent over the cost of the administration for the previous two years. This, I do not think, is in harmony with the present economic condition in the County when all County departments are making a strenuous effort to reduce their operating costs. If elected, I promise a program of rigid economy, consistent with proper administration of the af-airs of the Prosecuting Attorney's office and fearless, fair and impartial attention to all cases coming into the office, according to the dictates of my own conscience. I also promise a staff of fair, conscientious and competent Attorneys to assist in carrying out the affairs of the office. I believe that a great saving could be effected in a proper and thorough investigation of all matters coming into the office and a prompt and speedy disposition of the cases. Delayed trials and continued cases result in inefficiency, errors and a miscarriage of justice. During my two years as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney and my term as Prosecuting Attorney which expired January 1, 1930, I personally tried all of the important criminal cases that were handled by the office, and the unimpeachable records of the Circuit Court will show that these cases were tried with a great degree of success. I was born in Michigan and reside at my home in Big Beaver with my wife and three children. Fraternally, I am a member of the F. & A. M., I. O. O. F., Elks and the Berkley Exchange Club, and have been a life-long Republican.

FARMINGTON BOY ACTING AS GUIDE AT FT. MACKINAC

Daniel Duquet is One Of Eight Eagle Scouts Honored For Craftsmanship Mackinac Island, Mich., Sept. 1 (Special To The Enterprise)—A Farmington boy, Daniel Duquet, is one of the eight Eagle Scouts of Michigan whose services as an Honor Guard at historic old Fort Mackinac here is contributing so much to the enjoyment of tourist visitors this month. Duquet and his seven companions were selected as the old fort's peacetime "garrison" for this period because they had not only qualified for the highest honors in the Scout movement, but were also members of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, indicating unusual all-around abilities. Under the tutelage of Roger M. Andrews, Eagle Scout Honor Guard commissioner there, and his predecessors on the job have lent a touch of life and color to the quiet old fort all summer, and the Scout bugler's notes, sounded whenever a passenger steamer touched at the island, have stimulated the patriotism at the fort of military pomp long since gone. The boys take their regular turns, two by two, at the various duties of their company, hauling milk, ice, and other supplies, acting as kitchen police, and guiding the many tourists who brave the steep climb to the fort. Though none of them had ever visited the island, a few hours' instruction by Lieutenant Vennema, Mr. Andrews' right-hand man, sufficed to fix in their memories the principal events and dates in the history of the region, and the second day found them administering the story as if they had known it all their lives. In spite of their camp duties, their schedule is flexible enough to permit all eight of the boys to get around and see the sights for themselves. Some were especially interested in the site of old Fort Mich-mackinac, over on the mainland at the tip of the lower Peninsula, where the Indians massacred all but one of the British garrison before Fort Mackinac was built, and where restoration of the old palisade and blockhouse is now going on. Another point of view is the Tuxsen collection of relics, also at Mackinac City. It includes numerous buttons and fragments of weapons found on the massacre site during the recent digging there, and also one of the original cedar staves from the old stockade. The boys find time also for various sports, including baseball, tennis, golf, and an occasional swim in the big hotel pool where Mr. Andrews has arranged an entree for Scouts. In the short time they have been here, they have made friends all over the island, and the residents, as well as the director and counselors, will miss them when their stay is done.
