ORR MEETS NEED FOR A FEARLESS, ABLE PROSECUTOR
 (Political Announcement)
 "Whenever a great need arises, the times produce the right man," is one of the oft-quoted and frequently proved maxims of our history. American history has known this and time again that a period of crisis, there always sprang men of exceptional ability and stature to meet the demands of the times.
 Every community in the country is having its problems and Oakland County has need today of able men to guide its affairs. In this hour, supporters of Norman C. Orr are emphasizing the County's serious need of a fearless able prosecuting attorney who will not be swayed from his duty by any consideration, influence, or person. They declare that Oakland County requires more than ever before a real "fighting prosecutor" of the traditional type, a man to fight the battle for right and justice on behalf of the people, and that in Mr. Orr the County has a man who ideally fills the demand of the hour.
 Mr. Orr's aggressiveness as a prosecuting attorney is widely known and generally recognized not only in this County but throughout the lower part of the State. As a trial lawyer he ranks among the highest of all the prosecuting attorneys in the County's history. His dauntless prosecution of wrongdoers regardless of station in life or their great influence, natural or made enemies among those who would circumvent the law, and among their associates. But it has also won him in even greater degree the strong loyalty and support of citizens in every section of the County, who "love him for the enemies he has made."
 Mr. Orr led the Republican ticket by a wide margin in the primary September 15.

 "After the coroner has finished his investigation it is his moral duty to permit the family to employ a funeral director of their choice in their own community."
 Mr. Davis says that he will assume the public and individuals interested in having a coroner who will be fair and honest in his conduct of the office that, if elected, he will be absolutely just at all times in this respect.

Friends interested in the candidacy of Harry J. Merritt, Royal Oak Republican, for circuit court commissioner of Oakland County report the most intense interest in public affairs and the conduct of public office ever shown by the citizens of Oakland County. They report, also, a gratifying recognition by people throughout the County of the type of service which Mr. Merritt has rendered as the southern Oakland County circuit court commissioner.
 "Regardless of what some may think, the people really do come to know how the public business is carried on," said one of Mr. Merritt's supporters the week "and they recognize and appreciate capable, conscientious and considerate service such as Mr. Merritt has given. In going about the county we hear gratifying expressions regarding Mr. Merritt, and the fairness, courtesy and ability with which he has conducted his office. Mr. Merritt will follow up his impressive victory in the primary by being among the leading Republicans elected on November 8."

Pelican is History.
 Not only is the pelican celebrated in literature; it is mentioned with reverence in the early writings of the church. The fable of the adult pelican striking its breast to feed its young is known in many countries. The pelican is the emblematic bird of the state of Louisiana and Adonis the state flag and seal.

Female Lobsters and Crayfish Look Out for their Young much as does a mother hen for her chickens. If a female of either species senses approaching danger she calls her young to her by a warning shake of her claws and the little ones scuttle under her body to hide, much as baby chickens seek safety under their mother's breast when they hear her warning cluck.
