The Oakland Community College Library Technical Assistance program has been placing its graduates through its own job placement service for the past year and a half. Mrs. Betty Dimitry, assistant professor and coordinator of the program, and Mrs. Barbara Kabeonell, director of the service, have devised portfolios for their students who wish employment as paraprofessionals in the library field.

Graduates and undergraduates of the program are being placed in full-time and part-time jobs in school, medical, law, public, and industrial libraries. The library technical assisting program gives the student experience in audiovisual materials, library circulation procedures, cataloging, and library materials recording.

Interested employers or students may contact Mrs. Kabeonell at the college.

Insulation can save you cold cash

Get All The Heat You Pay For

Saving cold cash on winter heating is more than just a figure of speech — you could be paying for more cold than is necessary. Insulation saves you heating dollars by slowing down the rate of heat that's escaping to the outside and providing resistance to the flow of cold air entering your home. In fact, insulation can reduce your heating bill substantially (in many cases as much as one-third). Consumers Power Company neither sells nor installs insulation, but, for a number of years we have encouraged our customers to investigate the benefits of insulating their home. It saves money on fuel costs and increases personal comfort.

Other Ways to Save Heating Dollars

- Install storm windows and doors.
- Weatherstrip around doors and windows.
- Keep heating plant in good shape.
- Leave thermostat at lowest comfortable setting.
- Clean or replace filters regularly.
- Shut damper when fireplace is not in use.
- Close drapes on windy days and nights.
- Turn heat off in unused areas.
- Keep registers free from obstructions.
- Maintain proper degree of humidity.
