Loretta Young Most Unusual Movie Star

The usual fan conception of the lift of a movie star does not hold water when applied to Loretta Young, who appears with Warren William in the Warner Bros. picture, "Employees' Entrance," which plays at the Great Lakes Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Loretta has no retinue of servants at her bidding, and she hasn't a liveried chauffeur to drive her blooming car. She lives very quietly with her mother and three sisters and she drives her own car which is a very modest looking coupe.

She attends premieres every now and then, particularly when they are of her own pictures. But most of her movie-going is done in just the same way as 'most girls in modest walks of life'—she takes her mother and sisters quite often to see the not too recent pictures at the neighborhood theatre.

She does not dine on caviar or other imported delicacies, but goes for hot dogs with plenty of mustard, in a big way.

And what's more, she doesn't have oodles of money to squander even though she makes more than a fair salary. Her money is invested by her mother, and Loretta gets a spending allowance each week.

In "Employees' Entrance," Loretta appears with Warren William, Alice White, Wallace Ford, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly, Berton Churchill and others. The picture marks Miss White's return to the screen after an absence of two years. The screen play is by Robert Presnell, adapted from the play by David Bism. Roy Del Ruth directed.

Governing Body of Township Unchanged

office of highway commissioner but always in primaries on the Republican ticket, staged one of the bitterest battles of the day. Mr. Goers ousted Mr. Graham from the office he had been holding four years ago, and in three subsequent primary battles Mr. Graham had failed to turn the tables. As Democrat nominee Monday however, he achieved his aim and won out by 74 votes, 648 to 474. A big margin in Precinct 1 gave him his victory. There he polled 378 to 168 for Goers, whose 306 to Graham's 175 in Precinct 2 could not overcome the handicap.

Another Democrat, Frank Steele is to be the first of his party who will have a place, though two years hence, on the Township's governing board. Like Mr. Graham, he won by virtue of a big margin in Precinct No. 1. He received 324 votes there to 188 for Charles L. Wilson. The latter took Precinct 2, 276 to 182, giving Mr. Steele victory by a total of 506 to 464.

Charles Heise for board of review, and Henry DeHanke, William LaForge, William Gregor and Harry Winters for constable, all Republicans had no opposition.

The Township voted wet by a wide margin.

An amendment offered by Justice Walter Heckerle providing $900 for the treasurer instead of $750 was lost. Another amendment, also offered by Mr. Heckerle, was that the commissioner of highways be paid according to law, which is $5 a day. The resolution on this office stipulated 40 cents an hour or $4.00 a day, and not over $500 a year. This amendment was also lost.

Justice Ward Engle presided at the request of Supervisor Cox and Justice Willis T. Roberts acted as clerk at the request of Clerk Willard Campbell. The meeting was in Farmington Town Hall.

To the Editor:
The following lines published in the Michigan Christian Advocate express my sentiment on the liquor question.

BEER OR BREAD?
Daniel Maurice Robins
Has Pilgrim blood soured in our veins?

And from our new World, cities, plains,
Have faith and virtue taken wing?
Is alcohol the holiest thing.
Our Legislators can suggest
For citizens starvation pressed?
Are they real patriots who choose
To re-enthroned an outlived
"Booze"?

Will liquors legalized again,
Relieve the needs of hungry men?
Will vile saloons keep children warm,
Protect them from all vice and harm?

Will beer make idle motors sing?
Relight old furnaces and bring
New happiness to mother shuls
Who after all must pay its tolls?
When cruel starvation bites so deep.

At fire-sides cold, where children
Lie weep.
To men discouraged, underfed,
Would God give beer in place of bread?

IDA C. SMOCK

To the Editor:
As a former resident of Michigan, I am much disturbed by the frequent references in the Washington papers to the great trouble that Michigan, and particularly the Detroit section, is now suffering. I do hope that this coming season will bring better times and ameliorate the suffering of those who are destitute and relieve others from the unbearable financial and mental strain incident to the condition that exists.

With kindest regards, I am
Sincerely,
NUGENT DODDS.
