ELECTRIC HOT WATER SERVICE

THE COST IS LOW
Because it is so efficient

An electric hot water heater is almost 100 per cent efficient. There is practically no heat loss. Built like a thermos bottle, its thoroughly insulated walls keep the heat inside and assure an abundance of hot water when you want it.

A 60-gallon electric water heater costs $4 a month (net) to operate. This is ample hot water for a family of two to four people. But that's only half the story:

(1) An electric water heater is completely automatic. It needs no attention whatever. Once you have installed it, you can forget your water heating worries. Day and night, summer and winter, year in and year out, it will take care of itself.

(2) An electric water heater is dependent on electricity. It ends the annoyance of finding only lukewarm or cold water in the pipes. It ends running up and down stairs to light the tank, and waiting for water to heat.

Consider these things—then ask yourself if the convenience of electric hot water is not worth the cost. We will be glad to give you further information about electric water heaters.

AS LITTLE AS
$10 FIRST PAYMENT
