MORE THAN A COOL MILLION

IS SCHMIDT'S TAX CONTRIBUTION TO RECOVERY

YOUR Federal and State governments are receiving quite a chunk of money from The Schmidt Brewing Company these days. We've just been tallying our purchases of excise stamps since last June. The sum exceeds a million dollars—already consumed.

Those little stamps represent a golden flow into the treasuries of your nation and your state. They add not one penny to the earnings of The Schmidt Brewing Company; but they do add to the aggregate forces for recovery which are steadily becoming felt.

Business has been good with The Schmidt Brewing Company. Detroit and Wayne County residents have been buying Schmidt's Famous in increasing volume. The tradition of a fine flavor, a quality base and an honorable old name was remembered by old Detroiters . . . and now added thousands are learning why this firm stands out as one of the stalwart pioneers of Michigan's industrial life, trusted by veteran citizens, favored by their families.

Eager to give impetus to better conditions locally, we have been speeding up our plant expansion program, involving a direct expenditure of more than one half million dollars. This expansion work has meant and still means construction employment for many Detroit tradesmen and craftsmen. So the purchasing power of our customers . . . when they've asked for Schmidt's Famous . . . while swelling the tax coffers of government, has also made possible more jobs for Detroit workmen.

The most modern equipment within the command of the brewing industry is now installed in the Schmidt plant. Large sums have been expended for such units as glass lined tanks for storage, a new power plant of advanced design, additional bottling facilities and other equipment to provide maximum service. And throughout this institution the visitor senses modernization at high levels of efficiency.

We do not make public this information in order to emphasize our success. We do so only to remind our many friends that their preference for Schmidt's Famous has been instrumental in helping us to help our own community—both through the medium of larger tax payments (wholly independent of the usual property taxes levied by state, county and city) and through a larger employment list. We are grateful to be sharing in the drive for better times for all.
