Include Suburbs -- Detroit

The Detroit Board of Education, the principal defendant in the school desegregation case before U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth has recommended that an integration plan including suburban schools be drawn up.

The Detroit board's request mentioned no specific plan and did not name any suburban communities, but Detroit school officials said they would help draw up such a plan if that were Roth's decision.

Two months ago Roth asked the Detroit board to submit, in 60 days, its feelings on a "metropolitan plan" that would include suburban schools.

The Detroit board's position statement, submitted to Roth Friday, termed the metropolitan plan the "only meaningful solution" to school segregation in the city.

The board also gave Roth two proposals for integrating the city's schools by redistricting within Detroit.

The original move to include suburban schools in the Detroit desegregation plan was made by the Citizens' Committee for Better Education (CCBE), a group of white Detroit property owners who entered the suit as co-defendant with the Detroit school board and the state.

The CCBE has drawn up a plan that includes all suburban school districts in the Observant area which will be submitted formally to Roth if other plans "are not comprehensive enough," according to Alexander Ritchie, CCBE attorney.

Is Aerosol Spray Harmful?

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. BOX DRUGS, Livonia, 48151.

Q. My husband and I will be doing quite a bit of entertaining during the forthcoming holiday season. We customarily use one of the aerosol sprays designed to frost cocktail glasses. However, we have heard quite a bit about these sprays being abused and being harmful. Is there any chance that using this spray on glasses (following the directions on the label) could be harmful to our guests or ourselves?

Mrs. B.L., Livonia

A. The active ingredient in this sort of aerosol in concentrations of about 20 per cent of the atmosphere being breathed can lead to serious effects. Confusion, irritation of the lungs, kidney damage and even coma are some of the harmful effects.

If this sort of product is used as directed, the glasses will not be toxic in any way. The refrigerant gas evaporating from the surface of the glass is what produces the condensation and freezing of moisture in the air and onto that surface.

Of course, the gas will then become a part of the atmosphere of your home for a short time. It will not be present at toxic levels, but will merely become another minor pollutant along with the cigar, pipe and cigarette smoke that always make parties so enjoyable.

Extreme caution must be exercised to keep this sort of spray from coming in contact with flame or any very hot surface; the heat will decompose the refrigerant gas into some very toxic gases such as chlorine, fluorine and phosgene.

Now that we have relieved you of any cause for concern with the glasses, can we all just stop here for a minute and think seriously about what we will be putting into those glasses during the holidays...
